Holiday Truce Plans Outlined

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Scattered small fighting flickered across South Viet Nam today as the seven allied nations announced they would observe short truces at Christmas and New Year's and over the Vietnamese New Year in February.

While the relative lull in ground fighting carried through a fourth day, Vietnamese troops reported freeing 14 Vietnamese civilians from a Viet Cong prison camp in the Mekong Delta.

Vietnamese headquarters said the Viet Cong murdered four other civilians in the camp and that one of the liberated prisoners died of wounds after being freed.

U.S. headquarters reported a mistaken artillery shelling by a unit of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division killed three Vietnamese civilians and wounded 19 more. A spokesman said an artillery battery fired nine 105mm shells into the town of Tan Uyen, 20 miles northeast of Saigon early today. The spokesman said it was a "very regrettable accident" caused by an error in computing firing data.

The same town was accidentally bombed last July 1 by three U. S. Air Force planes whose bombs killed five Vietnamese civilians and wounded 43. Tan Uyen, a town of several thousand persons, is just north of the Bien Hoa air base.

In the air war today, high-flying B52 bombers made two raids on suspected North Vietnamese troop concentrations 17 miles northwest and 24 miles southwest of the U.S. Army Special Forces camp at Plei Djereng, in the central highlands.

The three truce periods announced by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government — two days each at Christmas and New Year's and four days during the lunar New Year — include cessation of U.S. air strikes and offshore naval bombardment against North Viet Nam.

Pope Attacks False Belief In Doctrine

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI today warned Roman Catholics against "arbitrary and offensive" interpretations of the Catholic faith made recently throughout the world.

Speaking at a general audience in St. Peter's, the Pope said that in these days "the faith is the target of many negotiations and controversies even among believers."

"Perhaps," he said, "echoes of erroneous opinions have reached you. These opinions dare to support arbitrary and offensive interpretations by holy truths of the Catholic faith."

The pontiff said that "voices spread throughout the world have been heard aimed at trying to deform fundamental doctrines clearly professed by the Church of God."

The Pope said these doctrines were the resurrection of Jesus, "the reality of His real presence in the Eucharist, and even the virginity of Mary and, as a consequence, the august mystery of the resurrection."

"What is more awesome," Pope Paul added, "is not the gravity of these false affirmations but the irreverent and daring audacity with which they are pronounced. This is a sad phenomenon that disturbs the spiritual renovation of the ecumenical council and disconcerts the ecumenical Christian unity dialogue."

Nurses To Quit In Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — General duty nurses at North Side and South Side hospitals here voted Tuesday night to resign their mass resignation notice of two months ago and resign en masse Thursday at 3 p.m.

Nurses, represented by the Ohio State Nurses Association in bargaining, voted on the proposal after negotiations with the Youngstown Hospital Association broke off. Vote figures were not available immediately.

Mrs. Joyce Nagle, spokesman for the Youngstown Nurses Association, said a limited number of nurses would work without pay in emergencies and to help process patients who have to be removed from the two hospitals which employ the general duty nurses.

Burch Labels Segregationist Charge 'Baloney'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top man in Barry Goldwater's presidential campaign dismissed today as "baloney" the two-year-old charge of Michigan Gov. George Romney that the race was designed to appeal to segregationist Southerners.

But Dan Burch, who served as Republican national chairman during the last presidential race, ended his rebuttal there and said he had advised Goldwater against debating the matter.

He said it threatened to renew the strife that split the party during the Goldwater campaign. "We're just starting 1964 all over again," Burch, in Tucson, Ariz., said in a telephone interview. "That won't do anybody any good."

Both Romney and Goldwater then denied that they had first made public the text of the 12-page letter the Michigan governor wrote Dec. 21, 1964.

Written as an explanation of Romney's refusal to endorse the Goldwater presidential ticket, it complains about campaign strategy and makes this assertion:

"Indeed, the conduct of the campaign and the Nov. 3 election results demonstrated that your campaign never effectively deviated from the Southern-roul-white orientation."

Romney said there was "distressing evidence that this was part of the strategy," but added he did not believe Goldwater had shaped such a plan.

Gov. Rhodes Offers Thanks To Du Pont

"I am particularly gratified to learn of Du Pont's confidence in Ohio."

This statement was made Tuesday by Gov. James A. Rhodes after it was announced that Du Pont plans a major expansion and modernization program at its Circleville "Mylar" polyester film plant.

He extended public thanks to the company for its decision. The governor also welcomed the announcement that the expansion will provide more than 150 new production jobs, plus the need for about 400 men when construction is at its peak.

The project, scheduled to start soon, is the third major expansion since Du Pont started producing film here in 1954.

Output of "Mylar" here will be increased by more than 40 per cent when the proposed project is completed, according to Alden D. Bray, plant manager. The new facilities are scheduled for start-up within 18 months.

"What is more awesome," Pope Paul added, "is not the gravity of these false affirmations but the irreverent and daring audacity with which they are pronounced. This is a sad phenomenon that disturbs the spiritual renovation of the ecumenical council and disconcerts the ecumenical Christian unity dialogue."

Auto Makers Get Word On 1968 Safety Measures

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's four largest automakers had the word today on what they must do to make 1968 cars safer. Their first reaction indicated they were neither surprised nor disturbed by it.

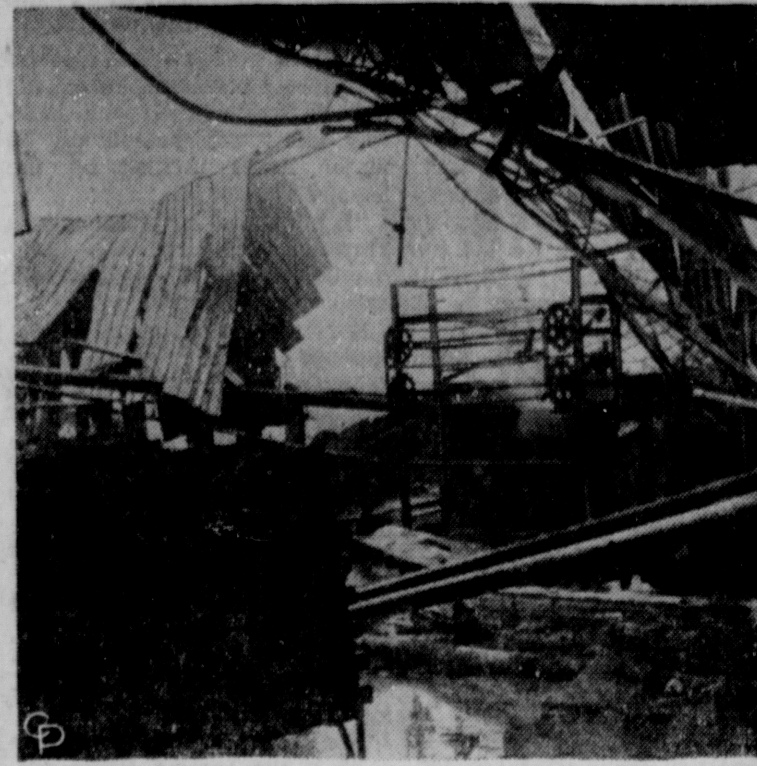

The word came Tuesday night from Dr. William Haddon Jr., the recently named national highway safety chief, as he released 23 safety proposals recommended by the federal government.

None of the proposals, described only in capsule form by Dr. Haddon, indicated any major changes would be required in 1968 automobiles.

Dr. Haddon said many of them are "already met by most of the vehicles to which they would apply."

The newly created National Traffic and Highway Safety Agency is expected to release detailed, technical versions of the proposals by Thursday.

Dr. Haddon unveiled the proposals at a dinner sponsored by

Lebanon Fire Leaves Ohio Short by 2 Million Auto Tags

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — The transfer of prisoners into the Lebanon Correctional Institution has been temporarily stopped following Tuesday's multimillion dollar fire.

The major problem resulting from the fire will be completing arrangements for the manufacturing of two million Ohio auto tags, which go on sale March 1, authorities said.

The institution makes all of the Ohio tags. But Maury Koblenz, head of the Ohio Division of Correction, said about eight million had already been made and moved out of the institution.

Koblenz said a commercial firm may be hired to complete the job.

Among buildings destroyed were the shops where license plates, highway signs and beds and chairs are made. Superintendent R. W. Alvis placed damage between $1.5 million and $2 million.

None of the 1,286 inmates was injured. In fact, officials said atmosphere inside the prison remained so calm during the fire that the inmates were given their lunch only 10 minutes late.

The only injuries were to seven firemen, who suffered minor burns or were hurt by falling debris. The 300 prisoners and 30 civilians working in the area of the fire were quickly evacuated, Alvis said.

A spark from an acetylene torch touched off the fire and

Rhodes Commutes Death Sentence For 2, Delays 1

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes today commuted the death sentences of two Hamilton County men scheduled to die Friday for murder and gave a 60-day reprieve to the third man.

Rhodes commuted to life imprisonment the death sentences of Curtis A. Bellamy, 21, and Elmer G. Miller, 46. He delayed the scheduled death of Lester E. Swiger, 29.

He acted on recommendations of the State Parole Board, which heard testimony last Friday on proposed mercy for the three men condemned in the death of a 76-year-old woman beaten during a $2,400 robbery.

Peter Porter, 40, farmer and livestock dealer, testified he was bilked out of the money last Feb. 22. He said he withdrew $11,300 from the bank in $100 bills and turned it over to the defendants when told they could turn the bills into $1,000 bills.

Another charge of larceny by trick had earlier been dismissed against each defendant.

Striking Police, Firemen To Get Offer in Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Representatives of the city planned to meet with policemen, firemen and Teamsters Union officials in Canton today where police and firemen picketed city hall Tuesday.

About 12 men from both departments braved the city's 3 1/2-inch snowfall to picket as they had promised Monday night after city council failed to act on their demands for an across-the-board, $600-a-year pay increase.

Mayor Stanley A. Cimich and city councilmen were expected to offer a pay increase at today's meeting, but the amount of the offer was not disclosed.

Similar picketing has been threatened in Warren but a police spokesman there said he doubted if there would be any action this week.

Surviving Quint In Serious State

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The sole surviving Aranson quintuplet developed serious breathing problems today and the chances of her survival took a sharp dip.

"Roni Sue had some difficulty during the night which alters the outlook for her," the infant's pediatrician, Dr. Lee Bass, announced in a mid-morning medical briefing.

"She had some episodes of apnea (suspension of breathing) and had to be stimulated to breathe," the doctor said. "This kind of spell makes the outlook quite different."

LBJ Announces $5.3 Billion Cut

Dirksen Happy About Cutback

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen gave a GOP blessing today to President Johnson's plan to reduce spending by $3 billion — with the reservation that Congress may cut even deeper.

Dirksen said in an interview the $5.3 billion hold-down on administration programs — calculated to clip more than $3 billion in actual spending in the current fiscal year which ends next June 30 — tallies with figures congressional leaders were given at a conference at Johnson's Texas ranch last Friday.

The President did not detail in his announcement in Austin Tuesday where the cuts will be made. But Dirksen said he expects the presidential pruning knife to fall heaviest on the anti-poverty and public works programs — including highways — and on foreign aid.

Dirksen avoided joining former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in contending that Johnson was reading with a turn to the right the Nov. 8 election returns in which Republicans picked up 47 House seats, 3 Senate posts and increased their governorships from 17 to 25, with one still in doubt.

"Let's just say," Dirksen chuckled, "that the President is being realistic."

Johnson told a news conference Tuesday that expenditures will be sliced in a variety of ways. He said these would include not asking Congress to appropriate money for some programs already authorized. He said there will be a stretch-out in others and some cancellation of contracts.

In the Austin news conference, Johnson called the economy strong. He said the "prudent and necessary" cuts would help combat inflationary pressures, "the cruelest burden of all."

The President said the largest share of the budget goes for defense and for expenditures over which he has no control, including interest on the national debt, veterans' assistance, agricultural programs and so on.

No Decision Yet Reached On Tax Hike

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson says he hopes to reach his decision "around the end of the year" on whether to ask Congress for a tax increase.

"No decision has been made," he told a news conference Tuesday in his office in the Austin Federal Building.

"No decision will be made until we have all the facts. Guesses will be made from time to time. That is a democratic privilege. But at best, they are guesses."

Asked whether he put Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, assistant House Democratic leader, in the guessing category, Johnson replied: "I think he put himself there. I think that was his language."

Boggs predicted last Sunday that Johnson would ask the new Congress for a $10 billion to $15 billion tax increase.

Johnson announced at the outset of the news conference that he had cut back various federal programs by $5.3 billion with a savings of more than $3 billion in actual spending of budgeted funds in the remaining seven months of the current fiscal year.

He described the program and spending reductions as "another step to protect and preserve our prosperity."

"By this action we will stretch out and postpone, withhold and defer the less essential items of our programs — the low priority ones," he said.

False Alarm, But Evidence Was Concrete

ENID, Okla. (AP) — Informed that two lunch boxes, in two discount stores, contained bombs, police gingerly carried them outside Tuesday night.

Sandbags were packed round one box and two loads of sand were dumped on the other one at the second store. Loud ticks came from both lunch buckets.

Officers ordered both areas evacuated.

An Army bomb-disposal unit at Ft. Hill, 25 miles to the south, was notified.

"I don't think the bomb-disposal boys will appreciate having to dig through all that sand," said one police officer.

The soldiers arrived early today and dismantle the padlock boxes.

Inside both were alarm clocks and pieces of concrete.

Defensive Driver Course Successful

Approximately 150 persons from Circleville and Pickaway County braved the elements Tuesday night to attend a Defensive Drivers Course sponsored by the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the local Du Pont Co.

Official Tally Gives Rhodes Record Margin

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes increased his victory margin in the Nov. 8 election to a record — breaking 703,223 votes in the official canvass announced today.

Figures released by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown showed the Republican governor received 1,795,277 votes compared to 1,092,054 by his Democratic opponent, State Sen. Frazier Reams Jr. Rhodes' plurality was figured at 62.1 per cent.

The governor gained 6,385 votes over the unofficial tally announced soon after the election. Rhodes' new record margin is expected to further enhance his consideration by Republicans for national office although the governor has indicated strongly he hopes to serve out his second consecutive four-year term. He is not eligible for a third consecutive term.

Today's canvass cleared the way for Archer E. Reilly of Columbus to take office for the short term state auditor but Reilly said he would not be sworn in until next Monday. He explained that he wanted to wait until after expiration of the five-day period allowed for challenging of official election results.

Reilly will serve until Jan. 9 when the regular four-year auditor's term begins. Former Ohio House Speaker Roger Cloud, who was appointed auditor to serve out an unexpired term, will be sworn in at that time to serve the term of which he was elected.

The official canvass is conducted by the secretary of state, governor, attorney general, auditor, or their representatives, State Chairmen of both political parties are invited to participate.

2 Convicted In Hillsboro Swindle Case

ENID, Okla. (AP) — Informed that two lunch boxes, in two discount stores, contained bombs, police gingerly carried them outside Tuesday night.

Sandbags were packed round one box and two loads of sand were dumped on the other one at the second store. Loud ticks came from both lunch buckets.

Officers ordered both areas evacuated.

An Army bomb-disposal unit at Ft. Hill, 25 miles to the south, was notified.

"I don't think the bomb-disposal boys will appreciate having to dig through all that sand," said one police officer.

The soldiers arrived early today and dismantle the padlocks boxes.

Inside both were alarm clocks and pieces of concrete.

CAN THEY BE FILLED? — The Enlisted Men's Club of Circleville's Ohio National Guard unit is confident these baskets will be filled with food prior to Christmas. If so, they will be distributed to families of needy veterans. Last year the enlisted men filled and presented eight baskets. This year they plan to make 16, providing food donations are sufficient. Canned goods and appropriate items may be taken to the ONG Armory on E. Franklin St.

EM Club Hopes To Double Yule Food Basket Project

The Enlisted Men's Club, an organization within Circleville's 2nd Rifle and Weapons Platoon, Ohio National Guard, will conduct its annual Christmas Food Basket project.

Sole purpose of the program is to provide food baskets for needy families of veterans. This will mark the second year the project has been undertaken by the EM Club.

Guard members already have mapped initial plans for collection of food and distribution of the baskets. An EM committee for the purpose is chaired by Sgt. Dale Bowers is president of the EM Club.

Persons willing or able to donate canned goods and other food items may take them to the National Guard Armory at 151 E. Franklin St. The filled baskets will be distributed to needy veterans families, based on names provided by Veterans Service Officer James Shea.

LAST year the enlisted men delivered eight brim-full baskets to needy families. They hope to increase the number to 16 this year.

Success of the venture will hinge on food donations that are made. The enlisted men themselves plan to provide personal gift items to go along with the baskets.

According to Kline, the baskets will be delivered the day before Christmas.

Negro Heads Reformatory At Mansfield

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Appointment of the first Negro to head a correctional institution in the United States was announced today by the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

Bennett J. Cooper, 45-year-old Cleveland native, was named superintendent of the Mansfield Reformatory, effective Thursday. He has been associate warden for treatment at the reformatory in north central Ohio. He had been employed at the reformatory since 1957.

Gov. James A. Rhodes said Cooper is "eminently qualified" and that he is being promoted for his qualifications "and not because of his race, color, or creed."

Also announced today was the appointment of Marion J. Koloski, who has been superintendent at Mansfield, as head of the Chillicothe Correction Institute. The 1,600-acre Chillicothe institution, formerly a federal reformatory, will be operated by the state under a lease arrangement with the U.S. Bureau of Prisons, beginning next month.

Bowling Green Attorney New Ohio House Speaker

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The next speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives, Charles Kurfess of Bowling Green, will have youth and a big delegation of fellow Republicans working for him.

The Bowling Green lawyer, who at the age of 36 already has five terms behind him, was unanimously chosen for the top House post Tuesday at a GOP caucus. It was attended by 58 of the 62 Republican representatives elected to the 107th Ohio

General Assembly. He will be officially elected after the legislature convenes Jan. 2.

Kurfess said after his election that school problems, taxes, air and water pollution and highway safety will undoubtedly be major items tackled by the legislature.

"I think we have enough to keep us busy until May 30th, maybe longer," he said with a grin.

Kurfess was expected to be opposed by acting House Speaker Robert F. Beckman of Cincinnati in his bid for the speaker's chair. But Beckman made a vote unnecessary by declining to have his name submitted. Kurfess was then declared the unanimous choice.

Longtime Speaker Roger Cloud gave up the post last year when Gov. James A. Rhodes named him state auditor, and Cloud was elected auditor Nov. 8.

The Republican edge will be 62-37 in the coming House session, compared to 75-62 in the last session. Redistricting cut down the number of seats.

Rep. Charles E. Holmes of Columbus emerged from the caucus as the choice for majority floor leader. He was opposed by Charles E. Fry of Springfield. Robert I. Evans of Coshocton was elected majority whip.

Carl Guess faced no opposition in voting for House Clerk, and will be going into his ninth term. Sergeant-at-Arms Harry Corkwell, onetime representative from Putnam County, was also re-elected without opposition.

National GOP Chairman Ray Bliss, the former Ohio chairman, was among the speakers at a luncheon held in connection with the caucus.

He credited Gov. James A. Rhodes for the big GOP victory in the state Nov. 8, saying: "We all owe him a debt of gratitude for pulling the ticket through the way he did."

me... made it clear that there had been a platform deal that was a surrender to the Southern segregationists, contrary to the ethic tradition of the party," Romney wrote.

"That's a bunch of baloney," said Burch.

Goldwater himself was off on an Air Force Reserve flight, but a spokesman said he had decided against making any statement on the newly published Romney letter.

Its publication in the New York Times Tuesday produced this series of events:

—Goldwater cabled Romney, who is vacationing in Puerto Rico, asking for permission to make public the text of the letter — and the letter he wrote which prompted it.

"Leaking the letter piecemeal as someone obviously is doing does not serve the best interest of our party," Goldwater said.

—At about the same time, Romney's office in Lansing, Mich., released the text of the letter. A Romney spokesman insisted the initial release had not come from the governor or "anyone acting in his behalf."

—Goldwater made public his Dec. 6, 1964, letter to Romney. "Where were you, George, when the chips were down and the going was hard?" it asked.

"Many rank and file Republicans got a bad taste in their mouths when they saw leaders of their own party failing to support a national ticket."

Romney's own presidential stock is on the rise now, boosted by his landslide re-election victory on Nov. 8. But conservative resistance, stemming from his 1964 posture, could pose a problem.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is lowering its draft standards again in order to obtain 40,000 more men for remedial military training.

The third revision of draft standards this year provides for rescreening of men now classified 1Y: fit for service only in time of declared war or national emergency.

The latest step is part of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's plan to draft and give special training to borderline cases in order to make them qualified for general military service.

The lowered standards announced Tuesday are still higher than those in effect during the Korean War.

About 2.4 million men now are classified 1Y.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite the absence of France at the payout window, the U.S. gold supply dropped $45 million more during October, the Federal Reserve Board reported today.

At the end of October, the board said, U.S. gold stocks totaled $13,311,000,000, a net loss of $495 million since the beginning of the year.

This was far less than last year's loss of $1.68 billion.

A decline in reserves prevented France from following during October her usual monthly practice of converting at least $34 million of her excess dollar holdings into gold at $35 an ounce.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has received an assessment from U.S. experts that India's food needs are urgent and if anything can be done by this country to help now it should be done.

Official sources said the President and his aides have reached no final decision on an Indian request for 2 million tons of grain as interim aid.

The White House received special congressional authorization to help India avert famine conditions this year. About 10 million tons of grain has been supplied by this country.

No Decision

Washington that the $3 billion spending reduction in the fiscal year which ends June 30, have no effect on the administration's thinking about a possible income tax increase. The cut, he said, already has been worked into the Treasury's figuring.

Johnson, explaining why he cannot make his decision now, said he will have better information around the end of the year.

In this connection, he said he plans to meet with the Joint Chiefs of Staff of the armed forces about the middle of the month and with Chairman Gardner Ackley of the Council of Economic Advisers perhaps this week.

He said a decision on a holiday truce in the war in Viet Nam would be announced "perhaps sometime within the next few hours." When the government of South Viet Nam announced several hours later that fighting would cease for Christmas, New Year's and for the lunar New Year, Johnson had nothing to say.

The President said he plans to make a brief trip Saturday across the Mexican border to join President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz for an inspection of the Amistad Dam construction site on the Rio Grande. The $70 million dam is the second major storage dam to be built by the two governments under a 1944 water treaty. It is in the area of Del Rio, Tex.

Westinghouse Plans Cutback At Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Columbus Appliance Division of Westinghouse announced today it will reduce the levels of production and the work force at the local plant.

C. L. Shepard, industrial relations manager, gave no specific figure but said the reduction "will affect a considerable number of hourly and salary employees."

"We cannot continue trying to operate at production levels we consistently fail to meet. There comes a time when poor performance must be halted," he said.

Company spokesmen said a number of factors are responsible, including continued problems on the assembly line, work stoppage and strikers.

In Cleveland, Ohio, at the edge of Lake Erie, 10 persons died Tuesday from apparent heart attacks while shoveling snow.

The dramatic rescue of the Nordmeer's crewmen off Alaska, Mich., took only 28 minutes. For 12 hours before that, the ship's captain, Ernst-George Steinbeck, and seven of his crewmen bore the brunt of winds that gusted to 60 knots — full gale force — as they sent out SOS signals.

At Ludington, the car ferry was reported out of danger during the storm, although the winds prevented vessels from taking off the passengers.

A Coast Guard cutter delivered fresh food to the car ferry Tuesday night, transferring the provisions on a line slung between the two ships.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Why do some people faint more easily than others? What simple help can be offered by those of us who are not professionally trained?

Every time the heart beats it pumps a quantity of blood into the arteries leading to the brain. This blood carries with it life-giving oxygen.

Whenever there is any interference with the free flow of blood to the brain a sense of faintness follows. When the obstruction to the flow of blood lasts for a long time deep unconsciousness and even coma may follow.

Overexertion, a very tight collar, or a severe emotional experience can produce a faint. There are, of course, many important conditions in the heart and the blood vessels of the neck that may be responsible for frequent and sustained bouts of fainting. In most instances, however, the cause is usually a simple one and should not cause any concern.

Some people because of their emotional makeup are more prone than others to fainting.

The greatest contribution that can be made to one who has fainted is to offer calm reassurance. The tendency is to do too much too quickly.

Since the object of all help is to encourage more blood to flow to the brain the victim should be made to lie flat, preferably with the head lower than the rest of the body. Ties, belts, collars and girdles should be loosened.

If smelling salts are available a slight whiff is helpful. Talk to the victim and assure him that professional help is on its way.

The big don't is: "Don't force liquid down his throat unless he is able to swallow it." The handy bottle of brandy should be kept on the shelf rather than have its contents poured down the throat of the already unhappy "fainter."

Why do some women develop frequency of urination after they have had three or more children?

This symptom may occur in some long after the birth of one child and in others it may never occur after having given birth to the round dozen.

In some women there is a stretching and a weakening of the muscles and ligaments which normally hold the bladder in a firm position. Repeated childbirth can produce a cystocele of the urinary bladder and produce frequency of urination.

Along with this there can also be a rectocele due to loosening of the muscles that normally keep the rectum in its normal anatomical position.

These conditions can and do occur during middle age and in the elderly without any relationship to childbirth.

When the symptoms are very severe or annoying, surgery can be safely performed and can result in gratifying relief.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. In order to be considered for publication, they must bear the correct name and address of the writer. Anonymous letters and those signed with the request that signatures be withheld will not be accepted for publication. Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writers and not necessarily those of The Herald.

To the Editor:

In casual conversations recently I have found there is a lack of understanding on the part of many people as to why the levy for the Circleville City Schools to be voted upon Dec. 13 is needed, and as to the difference between levies and bond issues. I feel an explanation of these might be helpful to many voters.

First, the school operating levy is for operating costs only. It is in no way connected with the bond issue which was passed May 5, 1964, for the purpose of (and I quote from the ballot): "constructing new school buildings and additions to existing school buildings, providing furnishings and equipment for school buildings and acquiring and improving school sites."

By law, funds from a bond issue can be used for no purpose other than that stated on the ballot. They can in no way be used to cover operating costs.

The bond issue provided funds that built and equipped Circleville High School, High St. Elementary, additions to Mount St. Elementary and Atwater Elementary and, through careful management, enabled the board of Education to acquire additional land adjoining the High School site and to improve these sites. Funds voted were adequate to complete the projects, as by law they had to be before the Board could enter into any contracts.

The need for additional operating funds would be apparent even if there had been no building program. Operating costs are going up for many reasons, some of which are: the rising cost of everything necessary to operate schools (as your household costs are rising); additional pupils requiring additional teachers to keep the pupil-teacher ratio near 30 to 1 in order not to jeopardize our North Central accreditation; the need to improve our teachers' salaries to enable us to compete on a more equal basis with other districts in the hiring of good teachers; and the costs of an improved curriculum providing many programs, especially in Junior High, such as industrial arts, home economics, music and other courses so helpful especially to those children not going on to college.

Passage of the levy is necessary for all these things if our children are to compete in today's society with children graduating from schools where the public has chosen to provide all the tools necessary for a fine educational program. Our operating costs, on a per pupil basis, are among the very lowest in the state. Even with the passage of the additional 3.5 mills we will remain more than 2 mills below the average millage provided by other city school districts.

Your children deserve continued good schools. Let's not take a giant step backwards in education. Remember, it is the children who suffer if we lose, due to a curtailed program, the many improvements we have already made.

AT THE HEIGHT of her career, the ebullient Tallulah Bankhead acquired a highly questionable household pet, a lion cub that she was pleased to name Winston Churchill.

Winston was not nearly so docile and amiable as Elsa, the star of "Born Free." Strong men quailed when Winston bounded in for a romp. Once he almost bit off Noel Coward's left hand. Tallulah thought that Coward's shriek of alarm was decidedly unsporting. "Don't be a spoilsport," she jeered. "Can't you see that Winston is just teething?"

A very fat lady was in a thoughtful mood as she stepped off the nickel scale at an amusement park. "Heavier than ever, eh?" sneered her unfeeling husband. "Not at all," countered the fat lady. "I've just figured from the weight table printed on this machine that I should be four feet taller."

Erhard Short-Changed

By John Chamberlain

Suddenly, with a sense of horror, certain people in the United States are discovering that nationalism is stirring again in Germany. The tendency is to equate it with something called "Neo-Nazism." I am not so sure that this tendency makes sense; after all, one can be a nationalist without being either a totalitarian or a racist, and at this particular point in German history there is no demand whatsoever for a Fascist economy and hardly enough Jews living inside the Reich to provide a target for racial antipathies even if there were any. But to the extent that the contemporary recrudescence of German nationalism is to be considered a bad thing, the U. S. has no one to blame for it but its own policy makers.

The fact is that Washington has done Chancellor Ludwig Erhard in. Erhard visited this country recently in hopes of getting support for his government. We had been forcing Bonn to pay for American arms that the Germans did not need or want, the idea being that this would return some of the dollars that have been going from the U. S. to support American soldiers in Europe. In Washington Dr. Erhard discovered that Secretary of Defense McNamara was insisting that the bargain of German arms purchases in return for U. S. soldier maintenance must be carried out. President Johnson was on McNamara's side of the argument despite efforts on the part of Secretary of State Dean Rusk to soften the conditions — and poor Ludwig Erhard went home empty-handed. It wasn't long before his enemies were demanding his scalp.

What the Germans have learned is that they can trust nobody but themselves. Last August, in the Rhineland, I heard incontrovertibly democratic Germans complaining that neither France nor Britain was really interested in German reunification. The British were primarily concerned with saving money on the cost of defending Germany, and the French seemed bent on liquidating NATO. Erhard's disillusionment with Washington was just one more blow.

Washington's alienation of the Germans is something that is dictated by our current pro-Soviet policy. With a single-minded absorption in the business of settling the war in Vietnam, Lyndon Johnson is trying desperately to get Moscow to bring the North Vietnamese to the peace table. We are offering trade bait to the East European Communist countries and to Russia itself. But the joker in all this is that the Soviets always take what they can get and give only what they were prepared to give anyway. They will accede to peace in Vietnam when there is nothing more to be gained from prolonging the struggle.

As for eastern Europe, the Soviets want co-existence there for the simple reason that it protects vulnerable borders. We don't have to sell West Germany down the river to improve our trade relations with Hungary or Rumania. On the other hand, the fact that the Russians want co-existence for eastern Europe does not mean they want it elsewhere in the world, provided they can foment trouble without cost to themselves. Everything is compartmentalized in the Soviet policy; they are perfectly capable of working for detente in East Europe at the same time they are busy stirring trouble between Syria and Israel in the Near East. And they will make a play for peace in Southeast Asia without reference to either east Europe or the Near East at the precise moment that the U. S. is about to defeat the Vietcong.

Since all of this is axiomatic with anyone who knows anything about Communist political strategy, our wooing of Moscow at the expense of Germany is simple-minded. Moreover, it ignores a hundred years of German history. The Germans are perfectly capable of making their own deals with the Russians if they aren't getting security from the West. The National Democratic Party, which recently made such startling gains in Bavaria, wants foreign troops to leave German soil. But Germany can only afford to give up western protection by coming to its own terms with Russia. This was a lesson taught by Bismarck long ago. The Germans forgot it when they took on enemies, on two fronts in two world wars. But they aren't likely to forget it again. The meaning is plain: we will either bind the Germans to us, or they will go to the East.

But to the extent that the contemporary recrudescence of German nationalism is to be considered a bad thing, the U. S. has no one to blame for it but its own policy makers.

The fact is that Washington has done Chancellor Ludwig Erhard in. Erhard visited this country recently in hopes of getting support for his government. We had been forcing Bonn to pay for American arms that the Germans did not need or want, the idea being that this would return some of the dollars that have been going from the U. S. to support American soldiers in Europe. In Washington Dr. Erhard discovered that Secretary of Defense McNamara was insisting that the bargain of German arms purchases in return for U. S. soldier maintenance must be carried out. President Johnson was on McNamara's side of the argument despite efforts on the part of Secretary of State Dean Rusk to soften the conditions — and poor Ludwig Erhard went home empty-handed. It wasn't long before his enemies were demanding his scalp.

What the Germans have learned is that they can trust nobody but themselves. Last August, in the Rhineland, I heard incontrovertibly democratic Germans complaining that neither France nor Britain was really interested in German reunification. The British were primarily concerned with saving money on the cost of defending Germany, and the French seemed bent on liquidating NATO. Erhard's disillusionment with Washington was just one more blow.

Washington's alienation of the Germans is something that is dictated by our current pro-Soviet policy. With a single-minded absorption in the business of settling the war in Vietnam, Lyndon Johnson is trying desperately to get Moscow to bring the

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Teacher Has a Lot To Learn

DEAR ABBY: In reference to the letter about the boy who tore off part of his lip when he ripped off the adhesive tape a teacher had placed over his mouth: As a school teacher I object to your telling the boy's mother to, "Go to school and give the teacher some of YOUR lip."

I, a parent ever gave me any of her lip I'd give her a slap across the mouth. If parents don't like the way we discipline their children, why don't they discipline them at home!

FELLOW TEACHER: DEAR TEACHER: Good question. However, a teacher has the right to toss a student out of her class — only figuratively, that is. A teacher who needs anything other than language to discipline a child, be it a ruler, a dunce cap, or adhesive tape, is in the wrong profession.

DEAR ABBY: How important do you think clothes are? I am a 33-year-old woman who has been told many times that if I want to get a man I should pay more attention to the way I dress. I am average looking. Not too fat or too thin, but I've never been clothes-crazy. I've always dressed neatly and inconspicuously but I never did have much style. I think if a man is going to get interested in a woman, what she wears won't make that much difference. I'd appreciate your opinion.

PLAIN JANE: DEAR JANE: In this day of competition, "packaging" is important. To quote my friend, Edith Head, winner of seven academy awards for costume designing, and still reigning queen of the fashion world: "All women look alike in a bathtub. The only chance a woman gets to show her individuality is when she puts her clothes on." I vote with Edith.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 19 and I am 18, and we have been married for 10 unhappy months. The months we went together he said he loved me, and he acted like it. Now I'm not sure. He told me the other night that he's been thinking a lot about his first love. He went with her for 2 years, then she married someone she'd known only a few weeks.

I asked him if he would go back to her if he could, and he said, "Yes, but I wouldn't want to break up her marriage." Then he hurt me awful bad when he said he didn't think he could ever love anybody else like he loved her.

Abby, I told him I loved him more than anything in the whole world and I would try my best to make him happy. He said, "That's the trouble, you love me too much."

I didn't know a person could love anybody too much, Abby. Can they! Please help me. It's so hard to give your love to a man when he has another woman on his mind.

UNLOVED: DEAR UNLOVED: Your husband is right. You do love him too much. One loves "too much" only when that love is unreciprocated. Quit begging. Ask your husband if he wants to try to make a go of your marriage.

IF he does, he will see a clergyman, or a professional counselor with you. Otherwise, face it. You'll be tied to a little boy who will be blubbering about his "first love" till the day he dies.

He told me the other night that he's been thinking a lot about his first love. He went with her for 2 years, then she married someone she'd known only a few weeks.

I asked him if he would go back to her if he could, and he said, "Yes, but I wouldn't want to break up her marriage." Then he hurt me awful bad when he said he didn't think he could ever love anybody else like he loved her.

Abby, I told him I loved him more than anything in the whole world and I would try my best to make him happy. He said, "That's the trouble, you love me too much."

I didn't know a person could love anybody too much, Abby. Can they! Please help me. It's so hard to give your love to a man when he has another woman on his mind.

UNLOVED: DEAR UNLOVED: Your husband is right. You do love him too much. One loves "too much" only when that love is unreciprocated. Quit begging. Ask your husband if he wants to try to make a go of your marriage.

If he does, he will see a clergyman, or a professional counselor with you. Otherwise, face it. You'll be tied to a little boy who will be blubbering about his "first love" till the day he dies.

Cincinnati Starts Drive For Theater

CINCINNATI (AP) —Cincinnati is going to have a new $910,000, 600-seat arena stage theater for its Playhouse in the Park by late fall of 1967.

Plans have been drawn up and a fund raising drive for the venture begins today.

Hugh Hardy and Associates, prominent theatrical architects in New York, have the contract. Their preliminary sketches are here and their working plans should make possible ground-breaking in March; construction starting in early summer.

The new theater will be east of the present one in Eden Park, linked to it by a plaza bordering on the present box office.

Besides the auditorium, the new theater will house an art gallery, new scenery and costume design rooms and dressing rooms.

The semi-circle of sharply rising seats facing the wedge-shaped open stage in the new building is designed like New York's Lincoln Center Beaumont Theater and the Stratford, Ont., Festival Theater auditoriums. Distance is short from back row seats to edge of stage. The audience sits above the actors.

The present theater (in a converted old building) will be operated along with the new one.

Playhouse expansion has been deemed necessary to meet the company's upturn in attendance and national reputation under resident producer Brooks Jones. Over seven seasons, audiences have tripled (36,000 last season in a less than 250-seat theater.)

Test-Launching Of Rocket Points To Fuel Saving

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A 150-ton rocket has been launched in a manner which scientists say saves energy and offers great promise or large solid-fuel rockets.

The rocket engine was ignited at partial power Tuesday at the bottom of an 80-foot tube. Gas pressure built up behind it, and the rocket roared out like a dart from a blowgun or a bullet from a rifle.

The 10-foot diameter rocket was tethered so that it would rise only 500 feet and then fall to the ground.

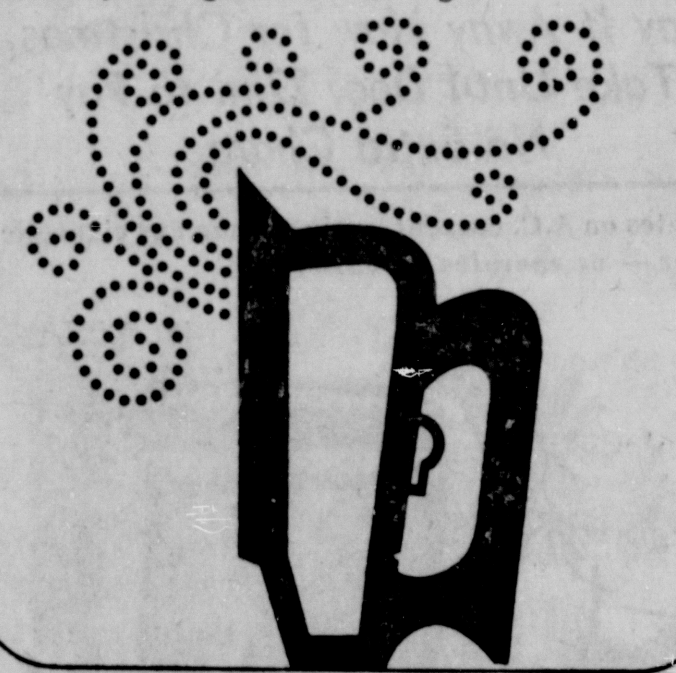

Lockheed Propulsion Co., made the test.

Normally solid fuel rockets burn at full power while leaving the ground, the firm said, operating inefficiently and using excessive fuel.

Ohioan Gunshot Victim

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Investigators said a rural Muskingum County man Kenneth Henderson, 30, apparently was shot accidentally near his Cumberland home Monday by a pistol that lay in the trunk of his car. The car trunk was open and the death weapon was in its holster, sheriff's deputies said.

Winds Change In Argentina

Ongania Careful After Army Coup

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Six months after taking power, Lt. Gen. Juan Carlos Ongania is treading cautiously into the teeth of a young hurricane. The winds of labor union anger show signs of growing stronger.

Ongania knows these winds of change must blow themselves out before the national salvage campaign he heads can be complete.

He knows, too, that national strikes, student unrest and political ambitions among men who wear uniforms have topped many South American regimes.

Although he inherited a jack-straw pile of problems June 23 when the military took over, the general has grabbed only one firmly. That problem was reorganization of the port of Buenos Aires, one of the more inefficient and costly in the world.

A port workers' strike failed, in the government view. More laborers went to work than stayed away when the strike began. But the fight isn't over, and the port must be worn before Ongania's forces can move onto the next objective, the state owned railroads.

Clamping down on the railroad bureaucracy may bring the 40-50 per cent of the government deficit. Frequent freight and passenger rate increases haven't done the trick.

The Peronist threat seems diminished. Perhaps the military character of the government is responsible. Perhaps it is because, as a few Peronist leaders say, Juan D. Peron has lived too long in luxury in Madrid, Spain.

Seek Wrong Careers

JAIPUR, India (AP) — Rajasthan state school authorities have a problem. Recent tests showed that 92 per cent of the state's university students were seeking careers for which they had neither the ability nor the aptitude.

Celebrating the new year is as old as mankind. The Babylonians and Egyptians whooped it up; so did the Romans and Greeks in celebrations surprisingly similar to those of today.

New Government Report on Smoking Presents Some Ominous Statistics

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new and more ominous report in effect extending the government's contention that cigarette smoking imperils health — this time from the standpoint of increased death rates — was issued Tuesday by the U.S. Public Health Service.

The report attacks the subject from a somewhat different angle than the famed surgeon general's report of 1964. That report blasted cigarette smoking as the major cause of lung cancer and said it was either a direct cause or closely associated with a number of other death-dealing ills.

The new report includes an analysis of death rates compiled from the records of every state health office in the country for the period 1950-1964—and deals specifically with "mortality from diseases associated with smoking."

A spokesman for the Tobacco Institute, trade organization of the major tobacco manufacturers, said the institute had no comment to make on the new report.

Among the major findings of the report, prepared by the health service's National Center for Health Statistics:

1. Rises in death rates from lung cancer and emphysema — the latter already rated by the health service as "the fastest growing crippling disease in the United States" — were "of unprecedented proportions for noncommunicable diseases" during the period studied.

2. Mortality from chronic bronchitis nearly doubled during the period.

3. There were "substantial increases" during 1950-1964 in mortality from three of the eight groups of diseases which

Winds Change In Argentina

Ongania Careful After Army Coup

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Six months after taking power, Lt. Gen. Juan Carlos Ongania is treading cautiously into the teeth of a young hurricane. The winds of labor union anger show signs of growing stronger.

Ongania knows these winds of change must blow themselves out before the national salvage campaign he heads can be complete.

He knows, too, that national strikes, student unrest and political ambitions among men who wear uniforms have toppled many South American regimes.

Although he inherited a jack-straw pile of problems June 23 when the military took over, the general has grabbed only one firmly. That problem was reorganization of the port of Buenos Aires, one of the more inefficient and costly in the world.

A port workers' strike failed, in the government view. More laborers went to work than stayed away when the strike began. But the fight isn't over, and the port must be worn before Ongania's forces can move onto the next objective, the state owned railroads.

Clamping down on the railroad bureaucracy may bring the hurricane. Some estimates say 80,000 workers must be discharged. The railroad unions aren't likely to take that lying down.

Something has to be done since the railroads account for 40-50 per cent of the government deficit. Frequent freight and passenger rate increases haven't done the trick.

The Peronist threat seems diminished. Perhaps the military character of the government is responsible. Perhaps it is because, as a few Peronist leaders say, Juan D. Peron has lived too long in luxury in Madrid, Spain.

Seek Wrong Careers

JAIPUR, India (AP) — Rajasthan state school authorities have a problem. Recent tests showed that 92 per cent of the state's university students were seeking careers for which they had neither the ability nor the aptitude.

Celebrating the new year is as old as mankind. The Babylonians and Egyptians whooped it up; so did the Romans and Greeks in celebrations surprisingly similar to those of today.

New Government Report on Smoking Presents Some Ominous Statistics

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new and more ominous report in effect extending the government's contention that cigarette smoking imperils health — this time from the standpoint of increased death rates — was issued Tuesday by the U.S. Public Health Service.

The report attacks the subject from a somewhat different angle than the famed surgeon general's report of 1964. That report blasted cigarette smoking as the major cause of lung cancer and said it was either a direct cause or of closely associated with a number of other death-dealing ills.

The new report includes an analysis of death rates compiled from the records of every state health office in the country for the period 1950-1964—and deals specifically with "mortality from diseases associated with smoking."

A spokesman for the Tobacco Institute, trade organization of the major tobacco manufacturers, said the institute had no comment to make on the new report.

Presidential Descendants Return to White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some folks who lived in the White House gathered there again and talked about it all. They remembered:

—Live bats living in a second-floor chandelier, said President Benjamin Harrison's granddaughter, Marthena Harrison Williams.

—A roughhouse one Christmas that left all the Franklin D. Roosevelt sons bruised throughout the holidays, recalled Miami Beach Mayor Elliott Roosevelt, one of those five sons.

—The christening of granddaughter Mary Jean in the Blue Room was the "very happy time" remembered by Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower.

—And 90-year-old Madame Julia Cantacuzene, granddaughter of Ulysses S. Grant, said she was not only born in the White House, christened in the East Room, but "received in the Blue Room — in my nurse's arms."

It was all part of a homecoming party staged Monday afternoon by Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson to launch a new book out today — "The Living White House" — which she said provides revealing glimpses of the lives and times of the 34 families who occupied the White House since 1800.

Mrs. Johnson invited offspring and descendants of the former presidents. Some couldn't come. Rain kept others away. But there were 14 representatives of the presidential families of Grover Cleveland, U. S. Grant, William H. Taft, Benjamin Harrison, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Dwight D. Eisenhower on hand among 250 guests for the festi-ties in the state rooms. The Eisenhowers were the largest contingent. There was former First Lady Mamie, daughter-in-law, Mrs. John S. Eisenhower and three granddaughters, Barbara Anne, 17, Susan, 14, and Mary Jean 10. The age span of the presidential guests was from 10 to 90.

The nostalgic stories ranged from snowball fights to the bivouacking of Civil War Union troops on the parquet floors of the East Room where Abigail Adams, the first occupant, once hung out her family wash.

Mrs. Johnson received the first copy of the new book from Melville Bell Grosvenor, editor of the National Geographic, which published it as a public service.

It Wasn't Show They Came To See

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — While patrons at the suburban Redwood drive-in theater settled back in their automobile seats to watch "The Professionals," a light rain fell, shorting out a neon sign and causing the huge screen to burst into flames.

Two trucks from the Salt Lake County Fire Dept. responded to the alarm Monday night and performed for a captive audience. Trucks and hoses prevented any of the 21 autos from leaving the lot.

Teacher Pay Is High on OEA Agenda

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Teacher salary problems are high on the list of subjects to be discussed when the Ohio Education Association and its 1,100 delegates open a three-day convention here Thursday.

A legislative program which Don Rasor and family of Columbus were Thanksgiving dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ankrom.

calls for adoption of a state minimum salary schedule for school teachers, and negotiations between teacher organizations and boards of education, is on the agenda.

On the minimum salary schedule, reported patterned somewhat on existing schedules in force in Pennsylvania and Indiana, the proposal would set a minimum starting salary for teachers with B. A. degrees at $5,000, scaling to $7,100 after seven years in $300 per year raises. The schedule would set a beginning salary of $5,500 for teachers with M. A. degrees, jumping to $8,500 after 10 years experience, also in $300 raises.

The professional negotiations proposal would require that boards of education recognize a teacher organization upon request and cooperatively develop policies "setting forth the procedures to be used in that district for negotiations."

Six-Year-Old Suni Lee Has Much To Be Happy For

By DONALD E. BERNER
Springfield Sun Staff Writer
SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—
A six-year-old Korean girl has much to be happy about as she prepares to spend her third Christmas season away from the misery and poverty of her former home.

The girl, Suni Lee Boswell, is the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Boswell of Springfield. She was born in Korea sometime in 1960, abandoned by her parents, lived in an orphanage, a hospital and an Army barracks before coming to America.

PTA To Sponsor
Movie on Saturday

A movie will be sponsored Saturday at Nicholas Drive School by the PTA for children of city schools.

The movie, an animated cartoon feature titled "The Adventures of Mr. Wonderbird," will be shown at 1 and 3 p. m. Refreshments will be on sale during the intermissions and the school doors will open at 12:45 p. m.

Encouraged by federal grants 12 urban areas are developing wilderness trails for hikers, cyclists, and horseback riders. Most of the city trails will link existing parkland.

Sung Hi Kim, as she was known in Korea, was a patient in the Seoul Children's Hospital when Boswell first saw her. As an abandoned child she was a ward of the city of Seoul and as such, a charity case.

Boswell, a Military Policeman, said that he was visiting the hospital with some friends and was attracted to the girl because of her indifference. The rest of the children were very friendly to them as bearers of gifts, he said. Sung Hi Kim, however, was very depressed and paid little attention.

Boswell succeeded in making friends with the girl and after communicating with his wife in Springfield decided to try to adopt her. It was December 1963 and "Suni" was three years old.

In the meantime, Suni had become eligible for release from the hospital and was to be sent back to the orphanage. The Korean orphanages are not very desirable, according to Boswell and he didn't want to see her returned.

He and three MP buddies who shared a four-room house as their quarters got permission from their sergeant to bring the girl "home" for Christmas. They found a tree and decorated it with the foil from cigarette packages. Mrs. Boswell sent a box that contained Suni's first dress and some Christmas goodies.

The four GI's decided to keep the girl after Christmas. Her stay lasted four and a half months and was a source of some problems for her hosts.

During regular inspections the GI's hid their house guest but were always fearful of a surprise inspection.

When the surprise visit by the commanding officer came, Boswell was alone in the house with Suni. But he was in another room and Suni greeted the captain.

"There was nothing to do but tell the truth," Boswell said.

The captain, known as a strict military man, thought the adoption was a good idea and after having been "charmed by Suni just turned his back on the situation."

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Sherry Ziegler got an anniversary greeting from her husband in Viet Nam, but not in the usual letter or call.

Her greeting came by way of the Dayton Daily News.

"Sweetheart, though we must be an ocean apart on our day, I want you to know that as we start another chapter in our book of life together, my love is yours," wrote Air Force S-Sgt. Richard L. Ziegler, on duty with the 37th Combat Support Group at Ta Son Nhut, Viet Nam.

"Not only across the miles, but throughout the years we will spend together. Happy anniversary, honey!"

The message was accompanied by a photo of Ziegler holding a heart-shaped figure with the words: "Sherry... happy 3rd anniversary... Dick."

Ziegler, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., had written the Dayton News asking to reserve space in the Nov. 27 edition "for the purpose of placing a surprise wedding anniversary message to my wife..."

Editors wrote Ziegler offering to run his message for his wife, whom he married while he was stationed at Wright Patterson Air Force Base near here.

6 Generations Without a Girl

NEW YORK (AP)—There were 48 consecutive males in the Pitofsky line until Monday. Then along came Nicholas—No. 49—and a $5,000 bond still goes unclaimed. The story is 135 years old now.

Nicholas' grandfather, Louis, 73, of New York City, is offering the bond to his first granddaughter.

No girl has been born into the Pitofsky family in six generations.

Louis Pitofsky has three sons and 10 grandsons. His father was one of two sons, his grandfather one of five, and his great-grandfather an only son.

TREES FOR VIET—Edward Jaroch, Dousman, Wis., grower, carries a small Scotch pine he cut for shipment to South Viet Nam for Pfc. David Lange's Christmas. It was ordered by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lange of Waukesha, Wis., and is one of 20 trees Jaroch is shipping to U.S. servicemen in South Viet Nam.

Do Servicemen Want To See Mother Hen or Young Chick?

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Would American servicemen in Viet Nam like to be visited by motherly types as well as shapely chicks?

Character actress Lilia Skala thinks so, but she can't convince the committee that sends entertainers to the war zone.

The Viennese-born Miss Skala, an American resident since the Nazi takeover of Austria, thought of going to Viet Nam when she read of how movies are shown outdoors to troops at Army bases.

"I thought perhaps I could show 'Lilies of the Field' to them," said the actress, whose portrayal of the stern mother superior in the film won her an Academy nomination. "It is a very soothing film and that in itself would be helpful. Afterwards I could sing some songs—I have taken lessons for years.

"But better yet, I would just talk to the boys and answer any questions they might have about the making of the movie. I have no illusions about myself as an entertainer; I know the boys would rather have Ann-Margret. But I think I could be of help in talking to the boys, perhaps telling them about my own two sons who were in the last war.

"Also, I could take names and telephone numbers of their wives and mothers, whom I would call when I got back here. That would certainly be of comfort."

Miss Skala made her proposal to the Hollywood Overseas Committee which books the Viet Nam trips. She was told in a polite way that the committee sees a greater need for entertainers who can sing and dance, preferably young ones.

She won't be discouraged.

"Every human being finds himself under great pressure," she reasons, "and he has the desire to speak of it and have someone listen with visible interest. Sometimes just speaking out clarifies our thought. I'm sure I could be of service if I could go to Viet Nam and just listen to what those boys have to say."

Miss Skala is now making a feature film for television, "Ironside," in which she appears with Raymond Burr. Learning that he had made three trips to Viet Nam, she told him of her desire to go. "Come with me next time," he suggested, and she accepted eagerly.

IT'S A "HOLOGRAM"—Dr. Ronald Lundgren uses laser beams to produce a "hologram," a true three-dimensional image, at Hughes Aircraft's laboratory in Malibu, Calif. By playing the laser beam back through the plate one can see the figures in three-dimensional form from any angle, as if looking through a window. Scientists say holographic techniques may some day be used for target recognition from air to ground, and that eventually there may be holographic movies and television. This lensless photography technique is one of the latest uses of the laser light.

Aerospace Scientists Now Turn Toward City Planning

BOSTON (AP) — Two space scientists said today that the aerospace industry should be enlisted to solve "the burgeoning problems of our sickening cities" and presented their own idea of the "super city" of the future.

In their ideal city, all residents would live in 100-story apartment buildings built in a circle around a vast recreational complex. There would be no automobile travel except for leaving the city, and each building would be filled with luxuries such as health and beauty resorts.

The concept was outlined in a paper presented today at the annual conference of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

The authors, Vernal M. Tyler and Carl F. Asiala Jr. of the McDonnell Aircraft Corp., St. Louis, Mo., reported their future city idea "has met with a most gratifying acceptance. And, of course, there have been detractors. All are unanimous in the feeling that something will have to be done."

They said studies show the U.S. population will increase by 30 million persons in 10 years and that 320 million will be living in urban areas 50 years from now. Traffic, they said, will be unbearable.

Why should the aerospace industry be called upon to solve the problems?

"Aerospace," their paper said, "has the largest private reservoir of scientific talent in the world. Its engineers have come up with workable solutions for almost every problem presented — no matter how difficult it might have been."

Instead of further crowding existing cities, Tyler and Asiala suggested that new ones be built from scratch. Their ideal city, called a "modular, circumferential city," might not be the perfect solution but could be a base from which to work, they said.

It would consist of 24 high-rise apartments in a double circle around the rim of the wheel-shaped city. It would house 250,000 persons, with parking on the lower floors, low-cost housing just above and the most expensive housing at the top of the 100-story structures.

Commercial areas, schools, theaters and government offices would be located throughout the complex. Transportation in the city would be by automated monorail, subway and moving sidewalk.

The one-mile diameter center of the city would have bicycle paths, golf courses, parks, streams and lakes — and no automobiles.

Continuous balconies would be on each floor, "analogous to a city's sidewalks, where people can intermingle and learn each other's names." Whole floors would be devoted to recreation and other facilities like sauna baths.

Calendars began to flourish as an advertising medium late in the 19th century.

We Face Long, Frustrating Battle In Densely Populated Mekong Delta

By PETER ARNETT
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's Mekong River delta looks like an Oriental picture postcard land. But to U.S. military planners, the lush delta is the ugliest part of Viet Nam, a place to be avoided unless there is no other choice.

There is no other choice now. The beautiful delta might well be where the ugliest chapter of the Viet Nam war is written for the United States.

Split Seen On Tax Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire predicted Tuesday a sharp division in the new Congress over the issue of possible tax increases.

Proxmire said in an interview the Senate - House Economic Committee he is in line to head in the 1967 session may furnish a prime example of disagreement over taxes when it begins its annual review of President Johnson's fiscal proposals.

The Wisconsin Democrat noted that he has opposed any tax increase while Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., top Republican on the group, has been plugging for a boost in the income levy for several months.

"I am sure there will be a sharp division of opinion over whether any tax increase is necessary," Proxmire said.

The problem in the Mekong Delta is that there are too many people, an estimated 7 million clustered along the myriad estuaries of the Mekong River that break out like veins across the countryside.

An aggressive American military stance among these millions might label the U.S. forces a colonialist army, a tag avoided up to now because American forces have been deployed where there are fewer people and more room to fight the war.

The fantastic firepower of American artillery pieces and fighter bombers that has meant the difference between defeat and victory in many battles to the north could wreak havoc among the delta's crowded civilian population.

American troops will find the enemy harder to identify in the delta than anywhere else in the country.

U.S. infantrymen will soon move into the delta because the stalemate there between Communist forces and the Vietnamese army threatens to negate the hard-won American military gains to the north in War one C, the central plateau, the highlands and the northern coast.

The Viet Cong's extensive delta organization continues to feed large quantities of men, supplies and money to units further north.

According to current American thinking, two American infantry brigades will move south initially.

But a really effective U.S.

military deployment into the region would require a full infantry division, with supporting units, at an initial cost of at least a billion dollars.

Anything less than that effort, according to the best informed American and Vietnamese sources, would result in a mere picking at the edges of the problem, without gaining any lasting change.

Based on the estimated cost of the Viet Nam war $25 billion in the current fiscal year, the billion-dollar expense sheet for a divisional move into the delta is realistic and might even be low, the best informed U.S. sources say. If the American effort grows larger, the costs would rise proportionately, they say.

Once American troops enter the delta they will face countless months of bitterly frustrating war. Their patience will be strained and endurance tested to a degree not yet encountered in Viet Nam.

The delta war prospects are bleak, which accounts for the reluctance of U.S. planners to make any southern move before this time.

Years of war have taught the Viet Cong every aspect of guerrilla war. The bedraggled farmer in black pajamas and straw hat stealthily laying ambush to an unwary government troop column is not a cliché in the delta. Hardcore enemy troops rarely wear uniforms, and no North Vietnamese regulars have been encountered south of the Saigon area.

The delta battalions know every inch of the countryside they fight upon, splitting into squads and using even public buses between villages, their weapons hidden among vegetable bags. Deployed across a province, one battalion can strike at a score of places and reassemble next afternoon.

In opposition to American troops in the delta will be 22 well-trained Viet Cong battalions armed with recoilless rifles, heavy machine guns and light automatic weapons. In addition, there is a large guerrilla force, bringing the enemy's delta force up to an estimated strength of 85,000 armed men.

This force could be greatly increased if the Communists decide to seriously oppose a southern U.S. move. Many battalions recruited in the delta are now fighting in northern areas. They could be moved back south.

American infantrymen will have to learn the facts of delta life the hard way. Moving chest deep in slime, feet tangling in mangrove roots, ammunition belts corroding, uniforms and boots rotting in a week, these things have to be lived to be learned.

Moscow's War
With Peking
Hot but Wary

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Soviet and European Communist reports leave the reader with the impression that the Moscow camp sees Red China's leadership on the threshold of a showdown clash and an ensuing violent political explosion.

Moscow seeks a world Communist conference which, in effect, would read the current Red Chinese leadership out of the revolutionary movement — but not the Chinese Communist party as such.

With slashing attacks unmatched in vehemence since the days of Nikita S. Khrushchev, Moscow has rejoined the battle of verbal brickbats with Peking. For all the vigor of the attack, it is a careful one which expresses "deep respect for the Chinese Communists."

Perhaps, in Moscow's thinking, the forces now pushing the "great proletarian cultural revolution" in Red China and spearheading the attack on the Soviet party may not be the ultimate winners.

A series of Moscow commentaries suggest a Soviet belief — or possibly a wish — that Lin Biao, heir apparent to Mao Tse-tung, and those who support him have been digging their own graves.

These commentaries hint that the current leaders have done some incredible things. They have broken up the Central Committee of the Young Communist League and virtually dismantled that important organization of nine million middle-generation Communists. They have destroyed the Peking City party committee. They have dismembered staffs of important papers. They have dismantled the party organization of Peking University.

Reports from the Czechoslovak news agency's Peking correspondent suggest that the Chinese military is in charge of the purge, but that Defense Minister Lin is opposed by still powerful men. These include President Liu Shao-chi and Teng Hsiao-ping, the party's general secretary.

The agency reports that Peking students have denounced Liu as a "time bomb" threatening Mao. It said the leaflets depicted Liu and Teng as No. 1 and 2 bosses of a "black gang" trying to halt the cultural revolution, and declared that "the anti-party reactionary line will not be liquidated" until the two are deposed.

Mini-Thieves
Bare Technique
In Car Heists

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Police report the arrest of two young auto thieves so tiny one squatted on the floor to work the gas and brake while the other perched atop a wash pan on the driver's seat, did the steering. Inspector H.R. Ray said Tuesday the youngsters, 9 and 13, admitted using this technique to take 10 stolen automobiles on joyrides.

"We didn't believe they could do it," Ray said, "until they demonstrated their system."

The system came to grief however when one of the boys pushed the gas pedal instead of the brake. The car rammed a tree and police collared them.

NEW YORK (AP) — There are persistent references these days to a drop-off in television audiences. But even as the critics mourn the lack of excitement in this season's crop of programs, there apparently is little evidence of any reduction in audience size or even of an disenchantment on the part of viewers.

Paul Klein, NBC vice president in charge of research, insists that the television audience this season consists of about 54,900,000 Television - equipped homes — 1,100,000 more than last year, and that only about seven homes in a hundred are without at least one television set.

Klein's figures, from various sources, indicate that the average set is in use 5 hours and 29 minutes a day — an increase of about 6 minutes over last year. "There are more television homes than ever before, there are more color sets than ever before and—contrary to popular belief—there are more upper-income homes with television than there are low-income homes," he said.

"Maybe people like to say that they are watching television less. But that could just be because the more people watch television, the more guilt-ridden they feel about it. It may be that they are reluctant to admit how much they watch."

The cute blonde girl in those explosive automobile commercials is named Pam Austin, and she has been signed to play the title role in a prospective series, "The Perils of Pauline."

Working in commercials seems to be a good way to start a performing career. Grace Kelly did a soap commercial in the old days. And look what happened to Barbara Feldon who started out selling cosmetics, moved on to costar in "Get Smart," and is now making motion pictures in her spare time.

NBC's news department has in the works a three-part series on Communist expansion and U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia. It will deal with Thailand, Laos and Indonesia. The first will be broadcast Dec. 16.

"Stage 67" ABC's anthology series, has signed Lauren Bacall and John Forsythe for a light documentary which will trace our nation's dance fashions from the minuet to the frug. It is for February broadcast.

Moscow's War With Peking Hot but Wary

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Soviet and European Communist reports leave the reader with the impression that the Moscow camp sees Red China's leadership on the threshold of a showdown clash and an ensuing violent political explosion.

Moscow seeks a world Communist conference which, in effect, would read the current Red Chinese leadership out of the revolutionary movement — but not the Chinese Communist party as such.

With slashing attacks unmatched in vehemence since the days of Nikita S. Khrushchev, Moscow has rejoined the battle of verbal brickbats with Peking. For all the vigor of the attack, it is a careful one which expresses "deep respect for the Chinese Communists."

Perhaps, in Moscow's thinking, the forces now pushing the "great proletarian cultural revolution" in Red China and spearheading the attack on the Soviet party may not be the ultimate winners.

A series of Moscow commentaries suggest a Soviet belief — or possibly a wish — that Lin Biao, heir apparent to Mao Tse-tung, and those who support him have been digging their own graves.

These commentaries hint that the current leaders have done some incredible things. They have broken up the Central Committee of the Young Communist League and virtually dismantled that important organization of nine million middle-generation Communists. They have destroyed the Peking City party committee. They have dismembered staffs of important papers. They have dismantled the party organization of Peking University.

Reports from the Czechoslovak news agency's Peking correspondent suggest that the Chinese military is in charge of the purge, but that Defense Minister Lin is opposed by still powerful men. These include President Liu Shao-chi and Teng Hsiao-ping, the party's general secretary.

The agency reports that Peking students have denounced Liu as a "time bomb" threatening Mao. It said the leaflets depicted Liu and Teng as No. 1 and 2 bosses of a "black gang" trying to halt the cultural revolution, and declared that "the anti-party reactionary line will not be liquidated" until the two are deposed.

Mini-Thieves Bare Technique In Car Heists

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Police report the arrest of two young auto thieves so tiny one squatted on the floor to work the gas and brake while the other perched atop a wash pan on the driver's seat, did the steering.

Inspector H.R. Ray said Tuesday the youngsters, 9 and 13, admitted using this technique to take 10 stolen automobiles on joyrides.

"We didn't believe they could do it," Ray said, "until they demonstrated their system."

The system came to grief however when one of the boys pushed the gas pedal instead of the brake. The car rammed a tree and police collared them.

Local Granges Represented At Conference

Pickaway County Granges were well represented at the 15th annual Great Lakes' States Lecturers' Conference held in Columbus.

National lecturer William Brake was present as were the state lecturers of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin. The conference was held to inform, inspire and instruct those in attendance in preparing and administering programs at regular grange meetings.

The theme of this conference was "Centennial Orbit" with most of the session and workshops emphasizing the 100th anniversary of the Patrons of Husbandry, known more commonly as the Grange.

Each day launching pads (workshops) were held, and fueling operations (banquets) were given with some of the speakers being: Lyle Tatum, of Farmers and World Affairs; and the Honorable Oliver Ocaszek, Ohio Senator. On Sunday afternoon winning youth teams from Ohio presented demonstrations of Grange ritual and drills. Each evening everyone participated in planned recreation and singing.

An attendance of well over 200 Subordinate and Pomona lecturers from the states mentioned made this a very successful conference.

Lecturers from Pickaway County were: Mrs. Leora Sayre, Pomona; Russell Waidelich, Washington; Mrs. Ralph Fisher, Scioto Valley; Miss Thelma Hines, Nebraska; and Paul Dunkle, Saltcreek Valley. Also attending were Mr. Ralph Fisher, Miss Barbara McKenzie, and Mr. and Mrs. John Dowler.

Taking the degree of the Junior Grange and becoming honorary members Sunday afternoon were all the lecturers from this county and Mr. Fisher. Mr. Dowler was in charge of the registration and was assisted by Miss Hines, Miss McKenzie, and Paul Dunkle. Dunkle also served as pianist for the talent, led the group singing, and presented a monologue for the group.

MESSAGE FROM HOME — Pickaway County Chapter, American Red Cross, again is offering its "message from home" service. Families are invited to make tape recordings of holiday messages to send to servicemen overseas. The family of Pvt. James Emerine is shown making a recording to send to Viet Nam where he is stationed. Left to right are his wife, Carol; brothers, Johnny, Ralph, Milton; mother, Mrs. Helen Emerine; and brother, Joe. A photo is also taken of the family to accompany the recording. Friday is the deadline for making the holiday "messages from home." Appointments may be made by contacting the Red Cross office.

Move GE Talks To Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiations seeking settlement of labor dispute at a Cincinnati area General Electric Co. plant have been switched from Ohio to a federal office here.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service announced Tuesday that the company and the unions involved, the United Auto Workers and the Machinists, agreed to the site change. The first Washington meeting is scheduled today at FMCS headquarters.

The GE plant in the Cincinnati suburb of Evendale produces jet engines for military planes. It has been operating since Oct. 18 under a Taft-Hartley law emergency injunction that sent workers back to work after they struck briefly.

Dr. Berry, director of medical research at the Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston, Tex., said "I'm very optimistic about the upcoming Apollo program" to land man on the moon in the next two or three years.

"The success of the Mercury and Gemini programs means we have already qualified man for the Apollo flight," he said. "The lunar mission will take eight days and we've already had men in orbit 14 days."

In a news conference, Dr. Berry said, "I'd like to gradually extend flight times to 30 days, 60 days and even up to a year—checking each time, of course, to be sure that it is safe to go ahead."

'Mothman' Believed To Be Big Bird

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va. (AP) — The mysterious mothman was still at large near this normally quiet Ohio River community, but the excitement he caused is dying down.

Prize-Winning AP Photographer Dies

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Frank E. (Pappy) Noel, 61, Pulitzer Prize-winning Associated Press photographer, died Tuesday following brain surgery. Noel joined The AP in 1937. His retirement last May climaxed a colorful career which took him across four continents, into the front lines of three wars, and three years in a Chinese Communist prison.

The excitement began two weeks ago when Mr. and Mrs. Roger Scarberry and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Mallett, all of Point Pleasant, spotted a large white apparition flying at high speed, following their car.

They told a deputy sheriff it looked like "a flying man with 10-foot wings." They said it was about seven feet tall with large red eyes.

These reports brought curious crowds to the McClintic Wildlife Station where the incident occurred. Volunteer fire department members had to help keep traffic moving.

During the next three days at least eight persons reported various similar creatures. On Nov. 18 two volunteer firemen,

Capt. Paul Yowler and Benjamin Enochs, said they saw what definitely was a very large bird with large red eyes.

Dr. Robert L. Smith, associate professor of wildlife biology at WVU, said the descriptions all fitted the sandhill crane, the second largest American crane, which stands almost as high as a man and has a wing span of more than seven feet.

He said the "red eyes" could be the large circles of bare reddish flesh around the crane's eyes. Smith said the bird apparently had wandered out of its normal migration route.

Local Granges Represented At Conference

Pickaway County Granges were well represented at the 15th annual Great Lakes' States Lecturers' Conference held in Columbus.

National lecturer William Brake was present as were the state lecturers of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin. The conference was held to inform, inspire and instruct those in attendance in preparing and administering programs at regular grange meetings.

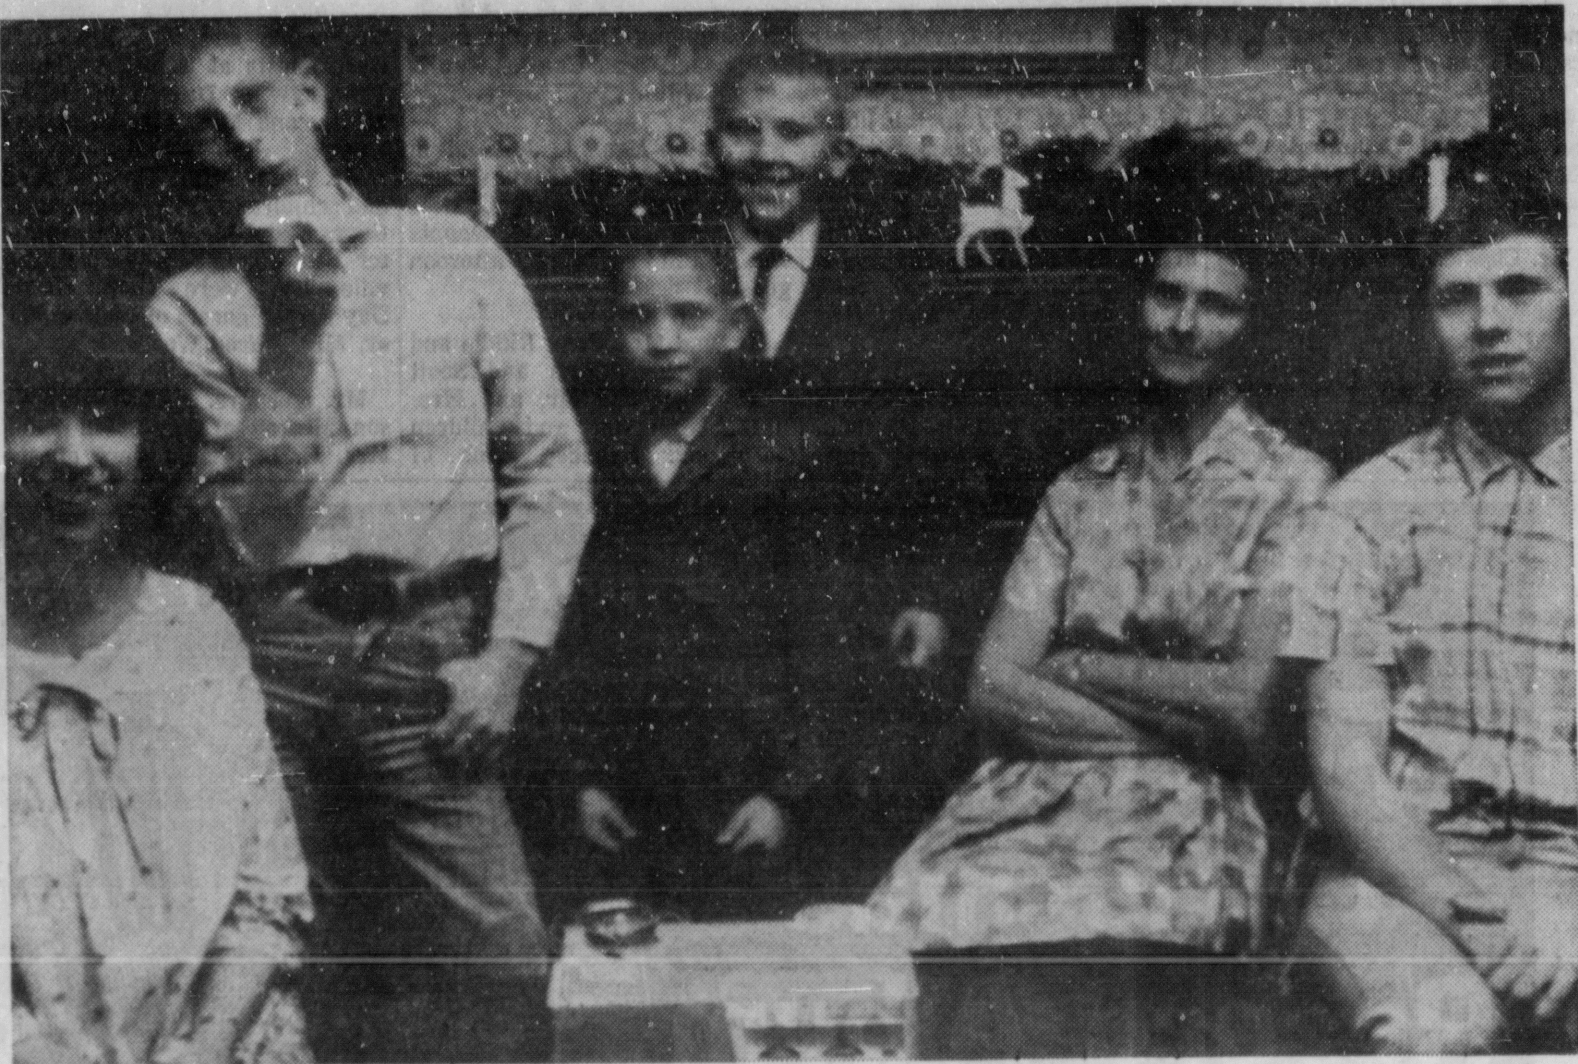

The theme of this conference was "Centennial Orbit" with most of the session and workshops emphasizing the 100th anniversary of the Patrons of Husbandry, known more commonly as the Grange.

Each day launching pads (workshops) were held, and fueling operations (banquets) were given with some of the speakers being: Lyle Tatum, of Farmers and World Affairs; and the Honorable Oliver Ocaszek, Ohio Senator. On Sunday afternoon winning youth teams from Ohio presented demonstrations of Grange ritual and drills. Each evening everyone participated in planned recreation and singing.

An attendance of well over 200 Subordinate and Pomona lecturers from the states mentioned made this a very successful conference.

Lecturers from Pickaway County were: Mrs. Leora Sayre, Pomona; Russell Waidelich, Washington; Mrs. Ralph Fisher, Scioto Valley; Miss Thelma Hines, Nebraska; and Paul Dunkle, Saltcreek Valley. Also attending were Mr. Ralph Fisher, Miss Barbara McKenzie, and Mr. and Mrs. John Dowler.

Taking the degree of the Junior Grange and becoming honorary members Sunday afternoon were all the lecturers from this county and Mr. Fisher. Mr. Dowler was in charge of the registration and was assisted by Miss Hines, Miss McKenzie, and Paul Dunkle. Dunkle also served as pianist for the talent, led the group singing, and presented a monologue for the group.

MESSAGE FROM HOME — Pickaway County Chapter, American Red Cross, again is offering its "message from home" service. Families are invited to make tape recordings of holiday messages to send to servicemen overseas. The family of Pvt. James Emerine is shown making a recording to send to Viet Nam where he is stationed. Left to right are his wife, Carol; brothers, Johnny, Ralph, Milton; mother, Mrs. Helen Emerine; and brother, Joe. A photo is also taken of the family to accompany the recording. Friday is the deadline for making the holiday "messages from home." Appointments may be made by contacting the Red Cross office.

Physical Obstacles Are Not Evident in Space Travel

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The astronaut's physician, Dr. Charles Berry, says he has found nothing so far that would prevent men making flights of up to one year — long enough to go to Mars and back.

As a matter of fact, he told the annual clinical meeting of the American Medical Association Tuesday, "man himself does not appear to be a barrier

Move GE Talks To Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiations seeking settlement of labor dispute at a Cincinnati area General Electric Co. plant have been switched from Ohio to a federal office here.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service announced Tuesday that the company and the unions involved, the United Auto Workers and the Machinists, agreed to the site change. The first Washington meeting is scheduled today at FMCS headquarters.

The GE plant in the Cincinnati suburb of Evendale produces jet engines for military planes. It has been operating since Oct. 18 under a Taft-Hartley law emergency injunction that sent workers back to work after they struck briefly.

to the exploration of our universe."

Dr. Berry, director of medical research at the Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston, Tex., said "I'm very optimistic about the upcoming Apollo program" to land man on the moon in the next two or three years.

"The success of the Mercury and Gemini programs means we have already qualified man for the Apollo flight," he said. "The lunar mission will take eight days and we've already had men in orbit 14 days."

In a news conference, Dr. Berry said, "I'd like to gradually extend flight times to 30 days, 60 days and even up to a year—checking each time, of course, to be sure that it is safe to go ahead."

Astronomers believe comets formed in and beyond the region of the giant planets—Jupiter, Saturn, and Uranus—some 4.5 billion years ago, about the same time as other bodies in the solar system.

'Mothman' Believed To Be Big Bird

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va. (AP) — The mysterious mothman was still at large near this normally quiet Ohio River community, but the excitement he caused is dying down.

The excitement began two weeks ago when Mr. and Mrs. Roger Scarberry and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Mallett, all of Point Pleasant, spotted a large white apparition flying at high speed, following their car.

They told a deputy sheriff it looked like "a flying man with 10-foot wings." They said it was about seven feet tall with large red eyes.

These reports brought curious crowds to the McClintic Wildlife Station where the incident occurred. Volunteer fire department members had to help keep traffic moving.

During the next three days at least eight persons reported various similar creatures. On Nov. 18 two volunteer firemen,

Capt. Paul Yowler and Benjamin Enochs, said they saw what definitely was a very large bird with large red eyes.

Dr. Robert L. Smith, associate professor of wildlife biology at WVU, said the descriptions all fitted the sandhill crane, the second largest American crane, which stands almost as high as a man and has a wing span of more than seven feet.

He said the "red eyes" could be the large circles of bare reddish flesh around the crane's eyes. Smith said the bird apparently had wandered out of its normal migration route.

Wilt Is Wilting At Charity Line

NEW YORK (AP) — Presto! Like magic. Wilt Chamberlain can be transformed from the greatest shot maker in National Basketball Association history into one of the worst.

All it takes is a whack on the wrist.

That's when they put the Philadelphia 76ers star a measly 15 feet in front of the basket, everyone stands back and they let him shoot. It's a free throw, but Wilt abhors charity.

The big guy, who has scored more NBA points than any other player on shots from similar distances with players hanging all over him, missed free throws about 45 per cent of the time in his first seven years in the NBA.

But this season is his worst yet.

The 7-foot-1 center has been hitting about 64 per cent from the field, but an incredibly low 38 per cent from the free throw line.

He's tried everything, said Coach Alex Hannum of the 76ers. "He's shot underhand, overhand, one-handed and from one side of the free throw line.

"I tried to help him when we were with San Francisco, but it didn't go. It's a psychological thing that Wilt will have to work out himself."

"I gave myself about 15 games to experiment, but it just didn't work out," Chamberlain said. "I've just got a mental block or something."

The experimenting dropped Wilt's free throw accuracy before he returned to his underhand shot and began improving. However, the early failures this season prompted at least one team to take its chances on Wilt at the free throw line rather than on field goals late in a close game — hence the whack on the wrist.

"Teams have tried that on and off for years," Chamberlain said, shrugging it off.

Army's Lindell Named College 'Back of Week'

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Army's Steve Lindell, who fired two cannon shots that scuttled the Navy last Saturday, was saluted today by The Associated Press as college football's Back of the Week.

Lindell, a poised, 19-year-old sophomore from Princeton, Minn., broke up the interservice duel with a pair of fourth-quarter touchdown passes, giving the Cadets a 20-7 victory to cap their finest season since 1958.

The 5-foot-11, 180-pound Army quarterback hit Terry Young with a 43-yard scoring strike, snapping a 7-7 tie, then tossed a 23-yard pass to Carl Woessner for the insurance tally.

Over-all, Lindell completed 12 of 17 passes for 164 yards, added 25 rushing yards and converted after two touchdowns in leading Army to its eighth victory in 10 starts under first-year coach Tom Cahill.

Wills, in the Dodger organization for nearly half his 34 years, angered team officials when he left a post-season exhibition tour in Japan. He said he was afraid he would injure himself seriously.

He declined comment on any disagreement with the Dodger front office.

The Los Angeles Dodger shortstop and team captain—holder of the major league season record of 104 stolen bases—talked of his possible retirement Tuesday after learning the Dodgers had said they would trade him "for a reasonable offer."

"I'd rather not be traded because Los Angeles is a great place to play ball," Wills said. "But if they decide to trade me I'll continue to play in the same fashion I've always done for the Dodgers. I'll give 100 per cent all the time."

"But if I feel I'd rather not go with another club, I'd retire."

Wills was bothered by injuries last season. He stole only 38 bases and was caught 24 times. But for the last few weeks he said he has been running each day with two-pound weights on his ankle and spending a half hour lifting a 5½-pound weight with each leg.

Tiger Mat Team To Open Season with Wilmington

By STEVE JONES
The Circleville High School wrestling team, under coach Kent Carpenter, has been working hard in preparation for its first match of the season, slated for 1 p. m. Saturday in the new high school gymnasium just off Nicholas Drive. Wilmington will furnish the opposition.

This is Carpenter's first year as head wrestling coach. He is enthusiastic concerning the potential of several of his candidates.

"All we need is the support of the fans, and we can go a long way," Carpenter says.

Wrestling is considered an exciting spectator sport. Those who attend the meet Saturday afternoon will not be disappointed.

There are about 27 candidates out for the CHS team this year.

Randy Martin is a prime candidate in the 103-pound class. He has experience and did a "pretty good job for us last year," Carpenter says of him. Another hopeful in the smallest class is Mike Good, one of the CHS football managers.

In the 112-pound class, Mike Smith has worked hard and has earned a probable starting assignment although he is only a first year boy in the sport.

Junior letterman Steve

Nelson has experience and Coach Carpenter is counting on plenty of wins from him in the 120-pound class.

A senior with four years of grappling experience will carry the Red and Black hopes in the 127-pound class. "Craig Benzenberg has state tournament potential," Carpenter feels. "It is just up to him as to how good he wants to be."

"Wrestling is an individual sport," Carpenter explains. "Much of the success of a competitor depends on how hard he works at conditioning and training and how aggressive he is on the mat."

"EXPERIENCE probably means more in wrestling than in any other sport," the CHS grappling mentor points out.

At 133 pounds, the Tiger candidate will be Dean Martin, a junior with a little experience.

The 138-pound division is up for grabs. "We're looking for a boy for this class," Carpenter says. "For some reason, we never have the competition at 138 pounds that it takes to develop a real good boy."

Ron Miller, a senior who won several matches last year and who was sectional champion, will be the 145-pound candidate. "Here's another boy with a lot of potential. He has three years experience and has the ability to be in the state tournament if he wants," Carpenter said.

JIM CAMPBELL of the 154 class is back for his third year in the mat sport. A junior, he lacked consistency last year, but showed good potential, according to Carpenter.

"If we can get a little more consistency out of him he will win a lot of matches for us," Carpenter says.

A junior, Bob Dean, will win his share of matches in the 165-pound class, the coach noted.

Carpenter saves most of his superlatives for the 175-pound class candidate, Tom Fletcher. "He is strong, he is quick and he has the moves and experience to be a state champion."

But he is also too heavy. Right now, Fletcher tips the scales at 185 pounds. He may have to wrestle in the heavy-weight class Saturday.

And he has until Dec. 12, the date of the statewide weigh-ins to reach 175 pounds. If he is not down to the weight by then, he must compete in the heavy-weight class for the remainder of the year.

THE HEAVYWEIGHT class is a question mark. If Fletcher doesn't make the 175-pound class he will be the heavy-weight.

Other candidates include heavyweight George Sadler, Bill Gibson, Jack Boyer and Bruce Francis.

Other candidates include Wayne Glover, Jack Robinson, Jeff Wise, Steve Lingo, Dave Chamberlain, Mark Ralston, David Owens, Terry Hall and Larry Dean.

The Tigers have a new mat and an outstanding schedule this year. Home matches will be in the new high school.

Included in the home schedule is the Circleville quadrangle Dec. 17 in which Lancaster, Walnut Ridge and Marion Franklin will provide competition.

A South Central Ohio League tournament will be held Jan. 28 here.

Other key tournaments will include the Groveport and the Worthington Invitational which will feature some of the best competition in central Ohio.

HERE is the complete schedule for the grapplers:
Dec. 3 Wilmington, 1 p. m.
Dec. 6 at Whitehall, 4:15 p. m.
Dec. 9 Columbus Central, 4 p. m.
Dec. 17 CHS Quadrangle, noon.
Dec. 21 Chillicothe, 7:30 p. m.
Jan. 7 at Groveport Tournament, noon.
Jan. 10 OSSB, 4 p. m.
Jan. 14 at Worthington Tournament, noon.
Jan. 20 at Groveport
Jan. 28 SCO Tournament, 1 p. m.

LE Gridders Honored at Awards Fete

Tim Huffman Voted Most Valuable on Brave Football Unit

The Logan Elm High School football team was honored Tuesday night by the Booster Club during an annual awards banquet.

Tim Huffman, senior half-back, earned the Most Valuable Player trophy for the Braves. Team members vote for the MVP award, as well as for captains of the team.

Trophies went to Jim Moorehead, as the only four-year letterman for Logan Elm and for captain. Huffman was also selected as a team captain.

Jim Evans won the coaching staff's nod as the most improved player. Special awards presented by the local radio station went to Tim Huffman, Gary Black, Don Benner and Larry Justice.

THE Rev. Foster Jenne gave the invocation and the Benediction. Principal speaker was Paul Starr, Circleville High School coach, who told of the values of the gridiron sport.

Numerals were awarded to: Dan Ankrom, Allen Black, Robert Cree, Roger Evans, Rick Fogler, Bob McAfee, Bill Mosley, Ralph Robey and Jim Younk.

Reserve letters were presented to: Richard Cree, Bob King, Ted Kurtz, Brad Rhoads, Tom Seimer, Byron Sykes, Steve Sykes, Jim Thomas, Merle Valentine, Mike Weaver and Ron Winegardner.

CHS Boosters Slate Meet

Circleville High School Booster Club members will see films of the Tigers' two basketball games when it meets 8 p. m. today at Noel's King Boy south.

Coach Chuck Hill will be on hand to narrate action in the films.

Booster Club president, Bill Thornton is urging all merchants to display their Red and Black flags Friday and Saturday to make all local fans aware the high school basketball team has games scheduled.

Plenty of Cage Action Scheduled For This Weekend

Plenty of cage action takes place this weekend for area high school basketball squads.

Teays Valley opens Metropolitan League play by traveling to Hamilton Twp. on Friday. Saturday, the Vikings meet the Westfall Mustangs on the floor of the latter team in the first renewal of an intense rivalry.

Logan Elm seeks its second win of the season at New Lexington St. Aloysius Academy, a perennial cage power in Perry County.

Down in Ross County, Zane Trace, a possible contender for the crown there, plays at Adena High School Friday. On Saturday the Pioneers travel to The Plains of Mt. Sterling.

AMANDA - Clearcreek makes a trek to Millersport Friday for a Fairfield County League game.

The Metropolitan League has six teams from three different leagues last year. Two of the squads were hoop champions in the 1965-66 season.

Pleasant View took the South Suburban Crown, with Teays Valley placing second. Reynoldsburg won the Franklin County Title. Whitehall is an entry from the Central Buckeye loop.

Teays Valley, Whitehall and Reynoldsburg could all figure in the title race.

The Vikings opponent last year had a 2-16 record. They have three veterans returning. Under Coach Eldon Maldon last season, the Hamilton quintet used a 2-1-2 zone and a 2-2-1 zone press defensively.

Depth and good shooting are two strongpoints for Teays Valley this year. Jim Estep, Vic Love and Rod Teets have proven to be three key men in the Viking offense. Mike Stone, Bruce Roese and Ron Leatherwood have also shown good scoring potential.

WESTFALL, with only one returning letterman, has lost two games. But Saturday the Mustangs will have Andy Hamman in a starting role. He spent last weekend in Chicago and missed the first two starts.

According to Larry Wilson, Mustang Coach, Hamman and Veteran Delbert Haneey do a good job at the guard spots.

Charles Palmer has carried the bulk of the scoring load for Westfall, with 14 points against Circleville and 22 against Jonathan Alder.

Logan Elm Coach Keith Merrin is expecting to meet a good ball club at New Lexington Friday. The Braves had an easy time in defeating Carroll as Jim Moorehead, Russ Merrin and Tom Smith all hit in double figures.

Merrin has good depth this season.

Zane Trace, winner of its first two Ross County League games, will be seeking its third win at Adena. With the upset of Chillicothe Bishop Flaget by Unioto last Saturday, the Ross County League race was thrown wide open, although South-eastern, with many veterans back from the team that made it to the State Tournament last year, is the favorite role.

'We'll Win' Cards Insist

St. Louis Fans Plan Dallas Trip

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Coach Charley Winner of St. Louis says he's going to Dallas Sunday to win a football game and more than 1,000 Cards fans plan to be there to see it.

"I've heard some people say we've already conceded the game," said Winner. "but let me tell you we're going to win it."

Dallas and St. Louis are tied for the Eastern Conference lead in the National Football League with 8-2-1 records. In their previous game at St. Louis they tied 10-10.

Cardinal spokesmen said 1,000 tickets provided St. Louisians for the game had already been sold.

"This is the big one," said Winner.

The Big Red has been hampered by the loss of quarterback Charley Johnson and all-pro center Bob DeMarco. Terry Nofsinger is filling in for Johnson and Irv Goode is DeMarco's replacement.

St. Louis hasn't scored a touchdown in two games and has been dependent on Jim Bakken's toe. Last Sunday, Bakken kicked two field goals to give the Cardinals a 6-3 victory over Pittsburgh.

Summer Scandal Named

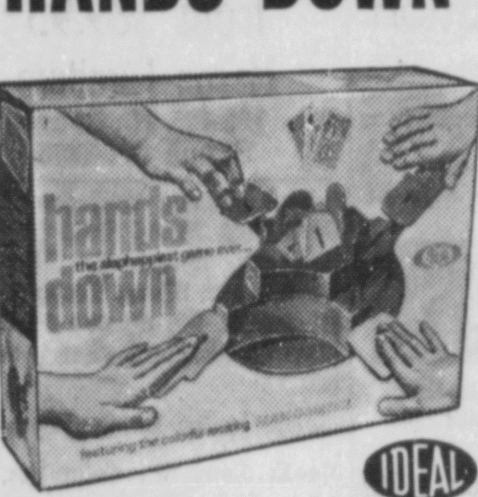

NEW YORK (AP) — By a margin of four votes, 28-24, David G. Volkert's Summer Scandal edged Donald P. Ross' Open Fire for the championships of the older fillies and mares division announced today by the Thoroughbred Racing Association's Board of Selection.

NFL To Finish Realignment, Set Super Bowl Site, Date

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League expects to finish its realignment today and get on to the business of setting the site and date of the Super Bowl game with the American Football League champions.

Pete Rozelle, commissioner of pro football, kept the owners at work until nearly midnight Tuesday, trying to hammer out an agreement on realignment.

Giants, Browns Injury-Ridden

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants, who play the Cleveland Browns Sunday, have been hit hard by injuries.

But Coach Allie Sherman says the Browns have also been hurt by the loss of some key players.

"Lose a man like John Morris and a team can be in trouble," Sherman remarked at a weekly press luncheon at Yankee Stadium Tuesday.

Morrow, the Browns' veteran center, fractured a small bone in his right leg in the Pittsburgh game Nov. 6. Sherman said Morrow rated with the best in football.

"Losing the tight end (rookie Milt Morin) didn't help either," Sherman added. "And you could see (defensive end) Bill Glass was hurting against Dallas."

But the coach was quick to add that he had great respect for the Browns defense and had high praise for Leroy Kelly as a running back.

"He (Kelly) can turn what seems to be a short gain into a 30- or 40-yard play," said Sherman.

New York scout Joe Walton noted that Kelly and Ernie Green "have broken away for long yardage on occasion," but he said the Browns were hurting without Jim Brown.

"I'd say this is a team that is a little tired," Walton said, adding that without Brown the Cleveland offense doesn't control the ball as well as it used to, and the defensive unit is suffering.

"I'd say that some of the old timers on the team are getting worn down," Walton remarked.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Paul Wiggin, veteran defensive end, was named Cleveland Browns Player of the Year today by the Cleveland Touchdown Club.

He will be awarded the Stan Cofall Memorial Trophy at the club's annual dinner Dec. 12.

Wiggin, 32, playing in his 10th season with the Browns, has done a solid job on a defensive unit that has saved the day on several occasions this year when the offense was unable to move.

Georgia Lineman Picked
NEW YORK (AP)—George Patton of Georgia received the honor for the second time this season as the Associated Press' Lineman of the Week for his defensive play in the Bulldogs' 23-14 victory over Georgia Tech last Saturday.

Yankees Eye Maury Wills

Hunt to Dodgers; Boyer to Braves

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers, having acquired second baseman Ron Hunt and the New York Yankees, having given up third baseman Clete Boyer, looked forward today to molding new infielders with shortstop Maury Wills possibly leaving one and joining the other.

The National League champion Dodgers made the first move of the annual baseball meetings Tuesday, sending two-time batting champion Tommy Davis and infielder-outfielder Derrell Griffith to the Mets for Hunt and infielder-outfielder Jim Hickman.

Less than eight hours later, the Yankees and the Atlanta Braves completed the first inter-league trade of the meetings and sent Boyer, an eight-year Yankee veteran, to the Braves.

In return the Yankees received outfielder Bill Robinson, who played for Richmond of the International League last season. The Yankees also got Federic (Chi Chi) Olivo for their Syracuse IL farm club roster and will send a player to Richmond later.

The Dodgers long have needed a solid third baseman, and the acquisition of Hunt will enable them to move Jim Lefebvre from second to third. John Kennedy, whose weak hitting has prevented him from fulfilling the team's wishes for a third baseman, now is free to move to short.

With Lefebvre, a .274 hitter last season, and Hunt, a .288 batter, providing offensive punch in the infield, the Dodgers might be able to afford carrying a .201 sitter of Kennedy's fielding quality.

That would fill the shortstop spot that would be vacant if the Dodgers completed a trade for Wills, who has fallen from favor since leaving the club early in its tour of Japan.

Wills, in turn, could fill part of the gaping hole in the left side of the Yankee infield, teaming with rookie Bobby Murcer as shortstop-third base combination.

General Manager Lee MacPhail said:

"We're still interested in talking to the Dodgers about Wills. They've got one more infielder (Hunt), and we've got one less."

The main problem the Yankees had in seeking Wills was meeting the Dodgers' desire for a shortstop.

"This trade doesn't change anything about the Wills' situation," said Buzzie Bavasi, the Dodger general manager, after the Hunt deal. "We still want a shortstop in return. That is mandatory."

Davis won the National League batting titles in 1962 and 1963 with .346 and .326 averages. But he broke his right ankle early in 1965 and hasn't performed to the Dodgers' satisfaction.

The 27-year-old outfielder batted .313 this past season but drove in only 27 runs in 313 at-bats.

Griffith hit .067 in 22 games with the Dodgers early in season, then batted .278 in 64 games at Spokane of the Pacific Coast League. Hickman, the last of the original Mets, batted .238 this past year.

The Yankees were pleased to get Robinson, who batted .312 with 20 homers and 79 RBI in the International League last season.

Pitt's football team, under new coach Dave Hart, has 18 lettersman from 1965 when the team suffered through a 3-7 season.

FASTING
Q. Currently, there are reports of certain Asiatic religious leaders who fast for extended periods. Moses is said to have fasted 40 days. Is this possible?
A. The 40-day fast of Moses is creditable if by "fast" is meant abstinence from food and such liquids as wine, milk, etc. Total deprivation, including water, would cause death in much less time than 40 days, especially in a hot climate. However, there are authenticated cases of survival following total deprivation of food (not water) for over 60 days.

HEART MURMUR
Q. What is meant by a heart murmur?
A. Two sounds can be distinguished when a normal heart beats: a low pitched, contraction sound and a sharper, higher pitched sound caused by closure of certain heart valves. If a valve is not functioning properly, the swish of blood through the partially open valve is heard as a murmur.
Q. Are heart murmurs in children a sign of serious disease?
A. Not always. But certain types of heart murmurs may spell real trouble. Doctors have ways of telling what murmurs indicate heart trouble or whether the sounds are harmless.

NFL To Finish Realignment, Set Super Bowl Site, Date

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League expects to finish its realignment today and get on to the business of setting the site and date of the Super Bowl game with the American Football League champions.

Pete Rozelle, commissioner of pro football, kept the owners at work until nearly midnight Tuesday, trying to hammer out an agreement on realignment.

Giants, Browns Injury-Ridden

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants, who play the Cleveland Browns Sunday, have been hit hard by injuries.

But Coach Allie Sherman says the Browns have also been hurt by the loss of some key players. "Lose a man like John Morris and a team can be in trouble," Sherman remarked at a weekly press luncheon at Yankee Stadium Tuesday.

Morrow, the Browns' veteran center, fractured a small bone in his right leg in the Pittsburgh game Nov. 6. Sherman said Morrow rated with the best in football.

"Losing the tight end (rookie Milt Morin) didn't help either," Sherman added. "And you could see (defensive end) Bill Glass was hurting against Dallas."

But the coach was quick to add that he had great respect for the Browns defense and had high praise for Leroy Kelly as a running back.

"He (Kelly) can turn what seems to be a short gain into a 30- or 40-yard play," said Sherman.

New York scout Joe Walton noted that Kelly and Ernie Green "have broken away for long yardage on occasion," but he said the Browns were hurting without Jim Brown.

"I'd say this is a team that is a little tired," Walton said, adding that without Brown the Cleveland offense doesn't control the ball as well as it used to, and the defensive unit is suffering.

"I'd say that some of the old timers on the team are getting worn down," Walton remarked.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Paul Wiggins, veteran defensive end, was named Cleveland Browns Player of the Year today by the Cleveland Touchdown Club.

He will be awarded the Stan Cofall Memorial Trophy at the club's annual dinner Dec. 12. Wiggins, 32, playing in his 10th season with the Browns, has done a solid job on a defensive unit that has saved the day on several occasions this year when the offense was unable to move.

Georgia Lineman Picked

NEW YORK (AP) — George Patton of Georgia received the honor for the second time this season as the Associated Press' Lineman of the Week for his defensive play in the Bulldogs' 23-14 victory over Georgia Tech last Saturday.

Yankees Eye Maury Wills

Hunt to Dodgers; Boyer to Braves

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers, having acquired second baseman Ron Hunt and the New York Yankees, having given up third baseman Cleve Boyer, looked forward today to molding new infielders with shortstop Maury Wills possibly leaving one and joining the other.

The National League champion Dodgers made the first trade of the annual baseball meetings Tuesday, sending two-time batting champion Tommy Davis and infielder-outfielder Derrell Griffith to the Mets for Hunt and infielder-outfielder Jim Hickman.

Less than eight hours later, the Yankees and the Atlanta Braves completed the first interleague trade of the meetings and sent Boyer, an eight-year Yankee veteran, to the Braves.

In return the Yankees received outfielder Bill Robinson, who played for Richmond of the International League last season. The Yankees also got Federic (Chi Chi) Olivo for their Syracuse IL farm club roster and will send a player to Richmond later.

The Dodgers long have needed a solid third baseman, and the acquisition of Hunt will enable them to move Jim Lefebvre from second to third. John Kennedy, whose weak hitting has prevented him from fulfilling the team's wishes for a third baseman, now is free to move to short.

With Lefebvre, a .274 hitter last season, and Hunt, a .288 batter, providing offensive punch in the infield, the Dodgers might be able to afford carrying a .201 hitter of Kennedy's fielding quality.

That would fill the shortstop spot that would be vacant if the Dodgers completed a trade for Wills, who has fallen from favor since leaving the club early in its tour of Japan.

Wills, in turn, could fill part of the gaping hole in the left side of the Yankee infield, teaming with rookie Bobby Murcer as shortstop-third base combination.

General Manager Lee MacPhail said: "We're still interested in talking to the Dodgers about Wills. They've got one more infielder (Hunt), and we've got one less."

The main problem the Yankees had in seeking Wills was meeting the Dodgers' desire for a shortstop.

"This trade doesn't change anything about the Wills' situation," said Buzzie Bavasi, the Dodger general manager, after the Hunt deal. "We still want a shortstop in return. That is mandatory."

Davis won the National League batting titles in 1962 and 1963 with .346 and .328 averages. But he broke his right ankle early in 1965 and hasn't performed to the Dodgers' satisfaction.

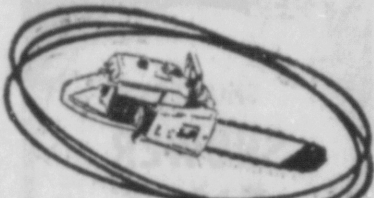

The 27-year-old outfielder batted .313 this past season but drove in only 27 runs in 313 at-bats.

Griffith hit .067 in 22 games with the Dodgers early in season, then batted .278 in 64 games at Spokane of the Pacific Coast League. Hickman, the last of the original Mets, batted .238 this past year.

The Yankees were pleased to get Robinson, who batted .312 with 20 homers and 79 RBI in the International League last season.

Pitt's football team, under new coach Dave Hart, has 18 lettermen back from 1965 when the team suffered through a 3-7 season.

Carl and Christine Zehner Form Brother-Sister Team

CHRISTINE AND CARL ZEHNER

Carl and Christine Zehner, son and daughter of Pastor and Mrs. Carl Zehner of 131 E. Mound St., form the only brother-sister team this year in the Chapel Choir of Capital University.

Carl, second base, is a senior in education at Capital. Christine, first alto, is a first year student in the education department. Both will be with the choir when it comes to Trinity Lutheran Church Friday for a concert of sacred music.

The brother-sister combination can now be termed a tradition in the Zehner family. Thirty years ago Pastor Zehner and his sister, Ruth (now Mrs. Ruth Paul), were members of the same choir.

The Chapel Choir, under the capable direction of Dr. Ellis E. Snyder, serves to exemplify the value a higher education has in the development of the total person. Observers fell although the spirit reflected by its members cannot help but affect that of its hearers, its purpose reaches far beyond a momentary thrill.

MEMBERS of the choir tend to show that education is more than books and tests. Their example denotes education as a way of life, a process of understanding.

Those familiar with the choir and its members say the message brought forth in song attests to the fact that life involves much more than material wealth, and their example shows the character brought out in an atmosphere of well-rounded learning.

This choir is considered not only unique in its spirit and a cappella excellence, but also in its membership. The majority of its singers are not in the music curriculum.

Hailing from more than 20 states, these students are representative of almost every departmental discipline at the University and branch out into many diverse fields after graduation.

Membership is by competitive audition. Open to any Capital student, it includes singing and the opportunity for travel. Besides having sung in most states in the Union the Chapel Choir toured Europe in 1962, the Orient in 1964, and plans a Scandinavian tour for the summer of 1967. At home in Columbus it sings to more than 16,000 people annually.

The concert Friday at Trinity Lutheran Church will begin at 8 p. m. Admission is free, but a free will offering will be received.

firmed by a presidential assistant at the Texas White House, followed a Viet Cong announcement Saturday of 48-hour cease-fires during Christmas and New Year's. The Communists also were expected to join in the truce for the lunar New Year — Viet Nam's festival of the Tet — as they do every year.

The truce agreement announced by Ky covers all anti-Communist allied forces in Viet Nam, including those of the United States, Australia, New Zealand, South Korea, Thailand and the Philippines.

Presidential assistant George Christian said at the Texas White House that President Johnson participated in the decision and was notified in advance of the announcement.

During short Christmas and New Year cease-fires last year, both sides accused the other of violations. The 1965 Christmas truce produced a 37-day pause in the bombing of North Viet Nam, a lull which U.S. military men say the North Vietnamese used to rush reinforcements south.

A lengthy cessation of raids against the north is not considered likely this year. Pentagon chiefs are known to be opposed to it unless North Viet Nam makes an equivalent move to de-escalate the war. Hanoi has given no such indication.

The truce periods announced by Saigon are from 7 a.m. Dec. 24 to 7 a.m. Dec. 28; for the same hours Dec. 31 to Jan. 2, from 7 a.m. Feb. 8 to 7 a.m. Feb. 12.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

The snow storm which dumped heavy snow on much of Ohio moved northeastward and weakened Tuesday night, but not before accumulations ranged from more than a foot in the northeastern counties to 7 inches at Cleveland, 6 inches at Toledo, and 3 inches at Columbus.

Little or no further accumulation was expected today.

Winds subsided during the night as the snow tapered off to a few flurries.

Cloudiness held overnight temperatures to a range from 27 at Mansfield to 33 at Chesapeake.

Today was to be cloudy and slightly warmer than Tuesday.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — After the Republican gains in this month's elections — in Congress and in the states — the party naturally perked up and began dreaming of the possibility of winning the presidency in 1968.

With the Democrats in a bit of disarray, with President Johnson losing popularity, and with the chance the war in Viet Nam might last two years more, Republicans began thinking big about that next election.

It could be their best chance in years. But even the sunniest among them knew that any real chance depended on melting the antagonism between the right wing and the moderate and liberal Republicans.

The opposite has just happened.

The presidential try of the right wing's hero, Sen. Barry Goldwater, was a disaster in 1964. Now Michigan's Gov. George Romney, elected to a third term this month, was the Republican front-runner in the polls.

But Romney had refused to support Goldwater in 1964 and this left a wound in the party. Without full Republican support in 1968 his prospects would look dim, even if he got the presidential nomination.

How could it be healed? By some savior, perhaps, plus a lot of political maneuvering, political conviction, and perhaps large doses of political expediency.

But with the Republican nominating convention still more than a year and a half away, the Republicans seemed to have plenty of time to doctor themselves.

Then a little more than two weeks ago Goldwater said that, while he wasn't closing the door on Romney, the Michigan governor had a lot of "homework" to do with party leaders to atone for not endorsing Goldwater in 1964.

But on the same day Romney said, "I am not interested in going back and taking a look at the past." Then this week the past caught up with both men but hardly in a way to take the pain out of that wound of two years ago.

The New York Times published a letter Romney sent Goldwater six weeks after the 1964 election, although no one so far among the Republicans has admitted being the one who gave the Times the letter.

Goldwater accused someone of leaking it, saying "that does not serve the best interests of our party." The Romney forces denied they did it. The Goldwater forces denied they did.

Romney's letter was in response to one from Goldwater plainly expressing the latter's irritation, if not anger, over Romney's failure to endorse him.

"Where were you, George," Goldwater asked, "when the chips were down and the going was hard?"

Romney's letter was a 12-page explanation of his position and, in the process, was a complaint and a criticism of Goldwater and of extremism.

When Goldwater found out about publication of the Romney letter, he was irritated all over again. And no wonder. It implied Goldwater didn't know what was going on around him in 1964.

But perhaps the most devastating Romney criticism of Goldwater, who had often been accused of "shooting from the hip," was the complaint that Goldwater didn't read the Republican party platform in 1964.

"You were apparently leaving many vital things up to others," Romney said.

Apparently Goldwater never had been intensely interested in the platform, although that was in effect the Republican party's basis for the campaign and its bag of promises if it won.

Before the party ever tried to put the platform together Goldwater had said he didn't want the usual one — with specific promises. He said he wanted statements of principles.

Detailed platforms, he said, "are not honest with the American people."

Carl and Christine Zehner Form Brother-Sister Team

CHRISTINE AND CARL ZEHNER

Carl and Christine Zehner, son and daughter of Pastor and Mrs. Carl Zehner of 131 E. Mound St., form the only brother-sister team this year in the Chapel Choir of Capital University.

Carl, second base, is a senior in education at Capital. Christine, first alto, is a first year student in the education department. Both will be with the choir when it comes to Trinity Lutheran Church Friday for a concert of sacred music.

The brother-sister combination can now be termed a tradition in the Zehner family. Thirty years ago Pastor Zehner and his sister, Ruth (now Mrs. Ruth Paul), were members of the same choir.

The Chapel Choir, under the capable direction of Dr. Ellis E. Snyder, serves to exemplify the value a higher education has in the development of the total person. Observers fell although the spirit reflected by its members cannot help but affect that of its hearers, its purpose reaches far beyond a momentary thrill.

MEMBERS of the choir tend to show that education is more than books and tests. Their example denotes education as a way of life, a process of understanding.

Those familiar with the choir and its members say the message brought forth in song attests to the fact that life involves much more than material wealth, and their example shows the character brought out in an atmosphere of well-rounded learning.

This choir is considered not only unique in its spirit and a cappella excellence, but also in its membership. The majority of its singers are not in the music curriculum.

Hailing from more than 20 states, these students are representative of almost every departmental discipline at the University and branch out into many diverse fields after graduation.

Membership is by competitive audition. Open to any Capital student, it includes singing and the opportunity for travel. Besides having sung in most states in the Union the Chapel Choir toured Europe in 1962, the Orient in 1964, and plans a Scandinavian tour for the summer of 1967. At home in Columbus it sings to more than 16,000 people annually.

The concert Friday at Trinity Lutheran Church will begin at 8 p. m. Admission is free, but a free will offering will be received.

firmed by a presidential assistant at the Texas White House, followed a Viet Cong announcement Saturday of 48-hour cease-fires during Christmas and New Year's. The Communists also were expected to join in the truce for the lunar New Year — Viet Nam's festival of the Tet — as they do every year.

The truce agreement announced by Ky covers all anti-Communist allied forces in Viet Nam, including those of the United States, Australia, New Zealand, South Korea, Thailand and the Philippines.

Presidential assistant George Christian said at the Texas White House that President Johnson participated in the decision and was notified in advance of the announcement.

During short Christmas and New Year cease-fires last year, both sides accused the other of violations. The 1965 Christmas truce produced a 37-day pause in the bombing of North Viet Nam, a lull which U.S. military men say the North Vietnamese used to rush reinforcements south.

A lengthy cessation of raids against the north is not considered likely this year. Pentagon chiefs are known to be opposed to it unless North Viet Nam makes an equivalent move to de-escalate the war. Hanoi has given no such indication.

The truce periods announced by Saigon are from 7 a. m. Dec. 24 to 7 a. m. Dec. 26; for the same hours Dec. 31 to Jan. 2, from 7 a. m. Feb. 8 to 7 a. m. Feb. 12.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

The snow storm which dumped heavy snow on much of Ohio moved northeastward and weakened Tuesday night, but not before accumulations ranged from more than a foot in the northeastern counties to 7 inches at Cleveland, 6 inches at Toledo, and 3 inches at Columbus.

Little or no further accumulation was expected today.

Winds subsided during the night as the snow tapered off to a few flurries.

Cloudiness held overnight temperatures to a range from 27 at Mansfield to 33 at Chesapeake.

Today was to be cloudy and slightly warmer than Tuesday.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — After the Republican gains in this month's elections — in Congress and in the states — the party naturally perked up and began dreaming of the possibility of winning the presidency in 1968.

With the Democrats in a bit of disarray, with President Johnson losing popularity, and with the chance the war in Viet Nam might last two years more, Republicans began thinking big about that next election.

It could be their best chance in years. But even the sunniest among them knew that any real chance depended on melting the antagonism between the right wing and the moderate and liberal Republicans.

The opposite has just happened.

The presidential try of the right wing's hero, Sen. Barry Goldwater, was a disaster in 1964. Now Michigan's Gov. George Romney, elected to a third term this month, was the Republican front-runner in the polls.

But Romney had refused to support Goldwater in 1964 and this left a wound in the party. Without full Republican support in 1968 his prospects would look dim, even if he got the presidential nomination.

How could it be healed? By some salve, perhaps, plus a lot of political maneuvering, political conviction, and perhaps large doses of political expediency.

But with the Republican nominating convention still more than a year and a half away, the Republicans seemed to have plenty of time to doctor themselves.

Then a little more than two weeks ago Goldwater said that, while he wasn't closing the door on Romney, the Michigan governor had a lot of "homework" to do with party leaders to atone for not endorsing Goldwater in 1964.

But on the same day Romney said, "I am not interested in going back and taking a look at the past." Then this week the past caught up with both men but hardly in a way to take the pain out of that wound of two years ago.

The New York Times published a letter Romney sent Goldwater six weeks after the 1964 election, although no one so far among the Republicans has admitted being the one who gave the Times the letter.

Goldwater accused someone of leaking it, saying "that does not serve the best interests of our party." The Romney forces denied they did it. The Goldwater forces denied they did.

Romney's letter was in response to one from Goldwater plainly expressing the latter's irritation, if not anger, over Romney's failure to endorse him.

"Where were you, George," Goldwater asked, "when the chips were down and the going was hard?"

Romney's letter was a 12-page explanation of his position and, in the process, was a complaint and a criticism of Goldwater and of extremism.

When Goldwater found out about publication of the Romney letter, he was irritated all over again. And no wonder. It implied Goldwater didn't know what was going on around him in 1964.

But perhaps the most devastating Romney criticism of Goldwater, who had often been accused of "shooting from the hip," was the complaint that Goldwater didn't read the Republican party platform in 1964.

"You were apparently leaving many vital things up to others," Romney said.

Apparently Goldwater never had been intensely interested in the platform, although that was in effect the Republican party's basis for the campaign and its bag of promises if it won.

Before the party ever tried to put the platform together Goldwater had said he didn't want the usual one — with specific promises. He said he wanted statements of principles.

Detailed platforms, he said, "are not honest with the American people."
